

GIVES FIGURES TO BACK UP CLAIMS

Roosevelt Stands by Statement That He Will Control Convention

UNDERESTIMATES STRENGTH Table Showing 501 Delegates Carefully Compiled to Show True Situation

TOLEDO, O., May 16.—"Of the delegates already selected, I have 501," said Colonel Roosevelt, today. He said by his statement of yesterday that he had more than 500 delegates, and was confident he would be nominated on the first ballot at Chicago. The third day of Colonel Roosevelt's Ohio campaign took him from Greensburg, Ohio, to Toledo. He made 13 speeches and had as little time for rest as on previous days. His voice showed no effects from the strain. Colonel Roosevelt was told that President Taft would dispute his claim as to delegates, and directed the preparation of figures to reinforce his statement. The Roosevelt column lists up 501. Under the heading, "For some other candidate," are placed 345 delegates, while 84 are listed as uncommitted and 28 as undecided. "I have gone over this table in minute detail," said Colonel Roosevelt, "and I consider it a guarded under-estimate of our strength."

The former president asserted that the lists of delegates which have been given out by the Taft managers were so misleading as to give little idea of the lineup, and that it was his purpose to show just what was the situation. Twenty from New York. From New York state 29 delegates are listed for Roosevelt. An explanatory note says: "The Taft people claim 28, but we have pledged from at least 29 who will vote for Roosevelt all the time." From Michigan 10 delegates are put in the Roosevelt column, with the statement that in that state the contents of the Taft delegates "have literally no foundation whatever."

The entire Mississippi delegation, is listed for Roosevelt, with the explanatory remark that, while it is claimed for President Taft, "in the state convention the Roosevelt people outvoted the Taft people by 3 to 1, thus controlling every delegate." Replies to Criticisms. In his speeches today, Colonel Roosevelt replied to several of President Taft's statements criticising him. President Taft says I am preaching class hatred," he said at one time, "So far from doing so, I would ask you to go about working this reform in a spirit of kindness and charity. It is not only that we are standing for what is right that I ask you to be with us, but also because this country cannot permanently prosper unless we have the government administered with justice and righteousness." After making his speech here, Colonel Roosevelt departed for Ironton, where he is to make his first address tomorrow.

TAFT FAMILY IN 3RD TERM MOVE FATHER AND BROTHER FAVORED GRANT

Roosevelt Springs Letter by Elder Taft Denounces Attempted Steals

DEFIANCE, O., May 16.—When Colonel Roosevelt learned of the outcome of the Republican state convention in Washington yesterday, as a result of which two sets of delegates are to be sent to the national convention, he denounced the action of the Taft supporters as "scandalous." At Paulding he said: "The most scandalous thing our opponents have recently tried and failed in is to steal from the people of Washington the delegates of that state. Whenever we held primaries in that state we beat them. Where they were strongest, we beat them two to one. Where they were not so strong, we beat them about eight to one. They had no chance of any kind, and if they have endeavored to steal what they could not earn, to try by theft to get what they could not get from the people."

Large crowds met Colonel Roosevelt during the day. At Lima while he was speaking a man called out, "What about the third term?" Colonel Roosevelt whirled about and pointed his finger in the direction of the questioner. "You can't ask me any question, you foolish creature, that I can't answer," he said. "I will answer you by quoting the words of President Taft's father about the third term." He then read a letter written by Judge Alphonso Taft, the president's father, to the Cincinnati Enquirer. After quoting Judge Taft's opinion, in referring to Grant's candidacy for a third term, that the only danger lay in the use of federal patronage for the purpose of procuring a third consecutive term, he said that Judge Taft's name headed the list of members of a Grant Third Term club. "Down among the list of members comes the name of a bright young representative of the family, Charles P. Taft," he said. "The whole Taft family was in that movement. I will appeal from son to the father and urge you to accept the sound common sense which the father spoke as to the ridiculous folly of raising any talk about a third term when the terms are not consecutive and the man out of power has no earthly means of influencing a single officeholder, a single privileged representative of the privileged class."

DR. H. C. STUNIZ OF NEW YORK A BISHOP

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 16.—Out of 244 candidates, one man was elected bishop today by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here, Homer C. Stuniz, assistant corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions, New York, was the first to be elected. He is the second to have the honor of being elected on the first ballot since the two-third rule went into effect. Out of 802 votes cast, Dr. Stuniz received 571, 44 more than necessary to elect. When the cheering had subsided the announcement was continued. The next highest men were D. G. Downey, New York, 331; Matt S. Hughes, Pasadena, Cal., 293; W. O. Shepard, Chicago, 293; R. J. Cooke, New York, 282; R. E. Jones (negro), New Orleans, La., 232; F. J. McConnell, Greencastle, Ind., 215; L. Luckock, Kansas City, Mo., 212; Andrew Gilles, Minneapolis, 210. Due to the scattering vote on the first ballot, it is believed, anyone may be elected on the second. This will be announced tomorrow. Under a suspension of rules the committee on Episcopacy reported their decision that eight bishops should be elected. Without change the report was accepted and ballot taken.

Husband's First Wife in Asylum; No. 2 Gets Divorce

Henry C. Harriman, a farmer living east of Colorado Springs, and who, it is understood, was formerly a minister, may have charges of bigamy preferred against him following a dissolution in the county court yesterday of his marriage to Mrs. Mary S. Scott. Mrs. Harriman told an unusual story when called to the stand to testify why she desired to have her marriage to Harriman declared void. The couple were married in Colorado Springs, March 22, 1909, Harriman representing to his second wife that he was a widower. For more than three years Mrs. Harriman, if her story is true, lived with her bigamist husband, entirely ignorant that he had another wife living. Then, Mrs. Harriman says, she learned a short time ago that the other Mrs. Harriman was in an asylum in the east and that her husband was not divorced from her. Two weeks ago she filed suit to have her marriage annulled. In reality, the separation granted yesterday by County Judge Little was a divorce, the law providing that when one or the other has a wife or husband living, such a condition is ground for divorce. Judge Little said yesterday's case was the only one of its kind he has tried. Mrs. Harriman was given permission to resume her name before her marriage to Harriman, Mrs. Mary S. Scott. Harriman was not represented at the trial.

GOLD PIECES MARK BANK ROBBER'S TRAIL

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., May 16.—A man who did not know how to ride a horse, came into town on one today, robbed the Nevada County bank of $5,040 in loose gold, locked three bank employees in the vault and got away, clinging to the pommel of his saddle. And soon after he dismounted, turned the horse loose, and went into hiding. He is still there, and a posse is after him. His trail, as far as he rode, was marked by gold pieces which he had tossed out of his pockets as the horse trotted. The man had been seen about town for two days. Today he ambled down the street, peered into one bank, rode around the corner and entered another, asking for greenbacks in exchange for proffered silver dollars. As Manager W. D. Harris turned to get the bills, the robber sprang over the iron lattice work, presented two revolvers, and drove Harris, Cashier H. A. Mosser and Miss Alta Clyme, a stenographer, into the bank vault. He locked the door, scooped up all the gold in sight and rode away.

Kenneth C. Heald of the senior class of Colorado college left last Saturday for New York city, whence he expects to go to Peru, South America, to engage in exploration work under the supervision of the scientific extension department of Yale university. Heald was a star player on the college football team for several years, and was popular at the college. His home is in Albuquerque, N. M., where his father is a minister. Heald leaves New York city tomorrow in advance of the regular party, which expects to sail June 8. The work in South America will consist in exploring and mapping certain regions in Peru and making an exhaustive study of the rock and mineral formations there. Heald's special duty is to scout ahead of the main party and prepare rough maps of the region in order to facilitate progress. The expedition is under the command of Prof. Philip Bingham of Yale, and it is expected that the work will occupy at least a year.

LOCAL GIRL WILL WED JACK CURLEY

Miss Marie Drescher, Formerly Wood Ave. Resident, to Marry Fight Promoter

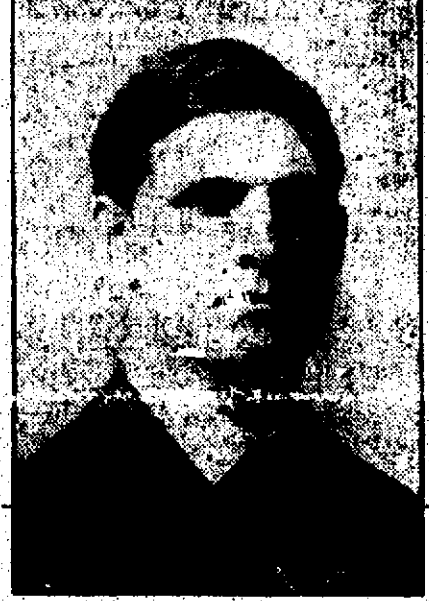

Miss Marie Drescher, formerly a society girl, living at 1723 Wood avenue, Colorado Springs, but now of Denver, and Jack Curley, promoter of the Flynn-Johnson fight at Las Vegas, N. M., July 4, will be married in the training camp of Jim Flynn at Las Vegas next Tuesday. Miss Drescher has known Curley, whose name is a familiar sight on sporting pages all over the country, for little more than a week. The two met while Curley had Flynn in Denver a short time ago for an exhibition bout at the Baker theater. Miss Drescher was one of the interested spectators at the Flynn exhibition fight, but it was only the night before that she had been presented to Curley. When Curley came to this city last week, Miss Drescher came too. She is just out of school, scarcely 18 years old, and it had been planned that she would go to Europe with her parents before being formally presented to society. The visit of Curley to Denver, however, spoiled all of these plans. Miss Drescher says it was a case of love at first sight. She will be through this city tomorrow night with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Drescher, on route for Las Vegas. Curley could not leave the training camp just now for a honeymoon trip, or even to go to Denver to claim his bride, so until after July 4, the honeymoon must be postponed. Jack Curley is, merely a "professional" name, the real name of the fight promoter being Almand Schmitt. However, Curley has grown so fond of his professional name that he has asked a Chicago court to give him a legal right to it. He is a native of Alsace-Lorraine and is about 35 years old. Curley has been known in sporting circles in the country ever since he came to the United States, and was in charge of the Jeffries-Gottch combination which toured this country the winter before. Jeffries met Johnson at Reno, Curley also arranged the Gottch-Hackenschmidt bout. About a year ago Curley's wife secured a divorce from him in Chicago on the ground of cruelty. Curley, in press dispatches, last night, denied the report that he was to marry Miss Drescher. However, the Denver society girl and her father and mother remain discreetly silent, and it is understood that they have not altered their plans to go to Las Vegas tomorrow night.

Republican Party No Longer Exists in State of Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., May 16.—As an organization, the Republican party no longer exists in Louisiana. Its franchise was lost today when official returns of the April election were read in the joint session of the general assembly and the result formally promulgated. Only 4,061 votes cast for the Republican candidate, and as this is less than the 10 per cent required by the state law, the organization no longer exists. The forfeit of the franchise also prevents the party from availing itself on the provision of the state primary law. HEIR TO A FORTUNE IS ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT SALT LAKE CITY, May 16.—John H. Bartley, son of the late Martin Bartley of New Bedford, Mass., was arrested here today after he had recovered beaten and choked Mrs. Marlex Louise Gellinas, who also is from New Bedford. It is said here that Bartley is heir to a large estate and that he was planning to return to his former home. Bartley and Mrs. Gellinas have been living in this city since February.

Fights Politics in Church; Is Himself Ousted From Pulpit

Because he denounced a combination of politics with preaching, especially so far as the church was concerned, the Rev. George B. Stewart, formerly pastor of the First Christian church of this city, was yesterday voted out of his recently acquired pastorate at the Jackson Street Christian church, Muncie, Ind. The story of his dismissal was contained in a special dispatch to The Gazette. The Rev. Mr. Stewart, according to the telegram, objected strongly to a motion made at a meeting of the Muncie Ministerial association that a certain candidate for political office be given the support of the ministers or organization. Arguments reached a climax when one minister sought to introduce a motion endorsing one of two candidates on the Republican county primary ticket. Mr. Stewart objected to the motion, saying there was too much politics in Muncie churches already. Friends favoring the candidate in question brought pressure to bear with this result that the church board voted, 19 to 10, not to retain the pastor after September 1 next. He said that he will prepare a statement for the public concerning the case. The Rev. Mr. Stewart was for two years pastor of the First Christian church here, leaving Colorado Springs last September and accepting a call to the church at Muncie. The Rev. S. E. Brewster succeeded him here.

LYNCH ESTIMATES HIS MAJORITY-AT 8,000

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16.—James M. Lynch, who for 12 years has headed the International Typographical union, believes tonight that he and the other administration officers have been re-elected by a majority of 8,000, based on partial returns. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—The submarine lunar, which grounded about four miles off the Gray Egg harbor life-saving station today, still is hard aground, and appears to be drifting closer to shore. Captain Dannebauer, Chief Electrician Parks, Engineers Ecklin and Wilson, and Hand, a sailor, still are aboard. Heavy seas are pounding almost directly at the stern, and are driving the vessel from the position where it struck. According to 14 members of the crew brought ashore, the Tuna grounded at 7 o'clock this morning, but no alarm was felt, as the captain and pilot believed they could float the vessel at high tide. Then the storm came up and drove the submarine hard on a sandbar. The Tuna was on her way from Newport News to Bridgeport, where the vessel was to have been turned over to the government.

RICHESON'S LAST CHANCE IS GONE GOVERNOR NOT TO CONSIDER CLEMENCY

Alienists Find Murderer Is a Neurotic and Insanity Runs in Family

BOSTON, May 16.—Clarence V. T. Richeson's last hope of escaping death next week for the murder of Avis Linnell of Hyannis, expired tonight when Governor Ross announced he would not refer Richeson's petition for commutation of sentence to the executive council. "The statement followed closely the filing of the special insanity committee report which declared the man sane, although subject to fits of hysterical insanity. The commission found that Richeson was sane at the time of the murder and that he now is sane. The prisoner has borne himself calmly since he was transferred from the Charles street jail Tuesday. It was apparent he still hoped clemency would be extended and it was believed this alone was keeping up his spirits. The statement by Governor Ross shows alienists found that Richeson's family was afflicted very generally with insanity and that the condemned man himself is a neurotic and subject to hysterical insanity. The statement in part follows: "Executive clemency will not be extended in the case of Clarence V. T. Richeson. The prisoner was sentenced upon his own confession, and without trial for a crime which it appears impossible that any normal man could commit. "The evidence shows that Richeson's family is heavily afflicted with insanity, that he himself is a neurotic, a somnambulist and a neurasthenic, that he is subject to extreme emotional disturbances, marked by loss of memory, which two alienists have diagnosed as hysterical insanity, one physician adding the alternative term of hysterical delirium and the majority opinion indicating that these attacks are hysterical, marked by emotional disturbances of brief duration, with loss of memory during the attack and for a varying period following. "The evidence, however, while clearly revealing these attacks, indicates that his crime was not committed by him during such an attack. Therefore, while there is no question of insanity among the alienists as to whether the facts indicate actual insanity, there is sufficient ground for the conclusion that he is accountable for his crime and that the exercise of executive clemency in this instance would be contrary to the public good."

BRITISH MARINES MAY BE LANDED IN MEXICO

Two Extensive Oil Refineries of Pearson Interests Seized by Rebels MEXICO CITY, May 16.—Two extensive oil refineries of the Pearson interests near Coatzacoalcas in Vera Cruz, were today reported to have fallen into the hands of rebels. The British gunboat Malpama, which left Vera Cruz a day or two ago, was said to be making for Coatzacoalcas with instructions to land marines if necessary to protect property and lives of British subjects.

ALLEN JURY LOCKED UP

WYTHEVILLE, Va., May 16.—The jury deliberating on the fate of Floyd Allen of the mountain clan that shot up the court of Carroll county, was locked up at 1 o'clock tonight. The case went to the jury when Commonwealth's Attorney Waver captured his argument. After three hours' deliberation, the jury returned to the court room. The foreman announced that no verdict had been reached and the men were locked up for the night.

THIRTY-EIGHT MORE NAMED FOR I. R.

West Virginia, Minnesota and Idaho Give Delegates to Progressive

LAUD HIS ADMINISTRATION Republican Party Reached Its Highest Service Then Say Resolutions

LEWISTON, Idaho, May 16.—The Roosevelt delegates in complete control of the Idaho state Republican convention elected today eight unopposed delegates and eight alternates to the national convention. Of the delegates elected, six are known as staunch Roosevelt men while two are said possibly to favor President Taft. The delegates are unopposed and are not even bound by the unit rule, but the impression prevails that they will vote as a unit at Chicago at least on the first ballot. The convention adopted resolutions endorsing the Republican platform of 1908, with special reference to that plank which said: "The Republican party has reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration was an epoch in American history. The highest aspirations of the American people have found a voice. Their most exalted servant represents the best aims and noblest purpose of all his countrymen." The resolutions also approved the administration of President Taft in his efforts to put Republican principles into action.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., May 16.—After hours of delay brought about by a complication of state affairs, the West Virginia Republican convention tonight named six delegates at-large to the Chicago convention, and thus endorsed Roosevelt's unqualified endorsement, and neglected to mention President Taft of his administration. This action gives Colonel Roosevelt the full state delegation of 18 to the national convention. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 16.—With more than 800 of the approximately 1,080 delegates to the state Republican convention supporters of Colonel Roosevelt, the body today endorsed the colonel and his principles and instructed the Minnesota delegation of 24 to vote for him "first, last and all the time."

Practically the only fight was over the minority report of the resolutions committee, composed of three supporters of Senator La Follette, to the placing of whom on the committee, I. A. Caswell, state manager for Roosevelt, has agreed shortly before the convention opened. This report was rejected. With scarcely a hitch, the program of the Roosevelt faction was carried out from the time the convention was called to order. I. A. Caswell was informed as national committeeman. Defeated in Montana. LIVINGSTON, Mont., May 16.—Roosevelt forces were defeated at every turn in the Republican state convention held here today. From the issues raised in the seating of contesting delegates to the election of a national committeeman from Montana they were unsuccessful. Threats of a hot were discouraged by con-

Tax Commission Is Legal, in Opinion of Supreme Court

DENVER, May 16.—In reply to a recent letter from Governor John F. Shafroth the judges of the supreme court today unanimously expressed it as their opinion that the state tax commission, created by a law passed by the last general assembly, is legal and should have been appointed. The court says that the tax commission only has the right to make the assessments on corporations doing interstate business and that the board of equalization is deprived of the power. Thus all assessments on corporations for this year will be invalid, if they are made by the board of equalization. They must be fixed by a state tax commission before June 15, the time limit for levies.

The law gives to the governor and treasurer the power of appointing the three members of the commission. The governor and Treasurer Roads Kenenah could not agree on appointees and no commission was named, the board of equalization doing the work of the new body as before.

It is the governor's contention that under the referendum section of the initiative and referendum law the bill could not become law until 30 days after the adjournment of the assembly. On this basis he held that the assessments made by the board of equalization for last year were legal. The court today in its opinion suggests that if the referendum limit is illegal and the commission should have been appointed within 30 days as usual last year's assessments would be illegal. The point probably will allow an opening for court tests of the constitutionality of the initiative and referendum and of the legality of last year's assessments.

The tax commission question was raised by a suit filed by a Boulder corporation contesting its assessment. The court today merely gave the governor an opinion and did not make a decision.

The Selection of a Temporary Chairman a Problem to Solve

CHICAGO, May 16.—One of the problems which the subcommittee on arrangements for the national republican convention faces is the selection of a temporary chairman for the convention in June. This question may come up at the meeting of the subcommittee which has been called by Chairman New for Saturday.

Colonel New disclaimed the idea that he would name the temporary chairman, but said he might suggest a few names for their consideration.

In political circles the naming of the temporary chairman was the subject of much gossip. It was suggested that as the speech of the temporary chairman would in a degree be expected to sound the keynote of the campaign, the temporary chairman should be a friend of the man who would be named as the nominee of the party for president.

CANAL ADMINISTRATION — MEASURE INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Panama canal bill, providing for the administration of the canal zone and the operation of the canal, was introduced in the house today. As a result of more than seven hours' debate opponents of certain provisions of the measure affected to discover a "joker," which they claimed would give to the nation, without compensation, a monopoly of the traffic through the Panama canal at the expense of American railroad-owned vessels, which would be barred under the terms of the measure. They prophesied as a result the commercial overthrow of Boston, Seattle and Portland, Oregon.

A bitter fight seems certain over the provision which would prohibit railroad-owned vessels from passing through the canal. Up to tonight the Pacific coast delegation in the house was unanimously in favor of the prohibition. Their future course probably will be the subject of a conference.

RIOTOUS SESSION OF COLORED CHURCHMEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—After a session of confusion marked by the delegates and their friends who crowded into Allen chapel, which ordinarily can accommodate but 50 persons, the African Methodist Episcopal conference today elected four bishops. As each bishop was elected his adherents placed him upon their shoulders and acclaiming him with shouts carried him about the hall.

Tomorrow the general officers of the conference will be elected.

CIVIL ANTITRUST SUIT FILED BY GOVERNMENT

PITTSBURGH, May 16.—The federal government filed a civil antitrust suit against the Aluminum Company of America, which will be the basis for an agreed decree designed to restrain the so-called aluminum trust from monopolizing the manufacture of aluminum and its products, including cooking utensils.

In a petition in equity to the United States court for the western district of Pennsylvania, the company is charged with being a monopoly restraining interstate and foreign commerce in violation of the Sherman law. It is declared to have acquired a substantial control of the aluminum industry in the United States and to have charged unreasonably high prices and profits on its products. The dissolution of the corporation is not sought but the court is asked to issue nine broad injunctions against alleged unlawful contracts, combination, conspiracies and practices.

Arrange for Impressive Funeral Services for Late King of Denmark

COPENHAGEN, May 16.—Preparations have been completed for an impressive burial of the body of the late King Frederick VII of Denmark which will arrive here at noon tomorrow.

King Haakon VII of Norway, son of the dead monarch, and other members of royal families, high government officials and foreign diplomatic representatives will assemble at the landing place, from which the procession will start for the chapel of Christianborg palace. It will pass through the principal streets which have been draped in mourning.

At the chapel a short service will be held and the body will remain there, guarded day and night by detachments of army and navy lieutenants, until the funeral at Roskilde cathedral on May 24.

King Christian has made the suggestion that in accordance with the late king's known wishes the customary wreaths of gold and silver be omitted.

Organizations proposing to offer such tributes are requested to devote the money to charities in which King Frederick was interested and to substitute simple floral offerings.

WARDEN SHOWS SOFT HEART

By Permitting Convict to Be By Mother's Side a Dangerous Operation Was Made Successful

TRINIDAD, May 16.—The kindness of Warden Tynan of the Colorado penitentiary undoubtedly saved the life of Mrs. A. Schimlenz, a resident of Trinidad, from death this morning, when in good spirits because her son, Albert Schimlenz, a convict, stood near the operating table she submitted to an operation which had been the least hoped would have not proven successful. Albert Schimlenz accompanied by a guard arrived in the city Wednesday evening to be with his mother at the critical moment. He was sentenced to the penitentiary in 1907 for from seven to 10 years for arson. He being found guilty of burning the tippie at the Sopris mine causing a loss of several thousand dollars.

ALMOST FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA ON HANDS

Began with Itching. Spread Fast. Fingers Fairly Swollen. Cried Night and Day. Tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Entirely Cured.

Beatrice Roth (a) — Eight years ago I got eczema all over my hands. My fingers fairly swelled and it itched until it almost drove me frantic. The eruption began with itching under the skin. It spread fast from between the fingers around the nails and all over the whole hands. I got a pair of rubber gloves in order to wash dishes. Then it spread all over the left side of my chest. I cried night and day. Then I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment, but without much hope as I had gone so long. There was a marked change the second day, and so on until I was entirely cured. The Cuticura Soap we have always kept in our home and we decided after that lesson that it is a cheap soap in price and the very best in quality. My husband will use no other soap in his shaving mug.

I have always used Cuticura Soap and ointment for my baby, and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap for he is so healthy, and when five months old was a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and since time out of the next time I see the mother she says: Oh! I am so glad you told me of Cuticura. (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Baby, Jan. 18, '11. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free with 23-p. book. Address: Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

PRESIDENT SHOWS MORE VIM AFTER DAY OF REST

Tells Ohioans He Is Fighting Because Outcome Is More Vital to People Than to Him

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—"I would not be here to bother you tonight if it did not concern the American people more than it does me, to defeat Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency."

That was the way President Taft introduced his criticism of Colonel Roosevelt here tonight.

"If it were a purely personal matter with me," he continued, "I would be content to abide the verdict of time and would remain in the white house silent under his misstatements and attacks upon me. But more than my own feelings in the matter is at stake. It is of supreme importance to the American people."

After a day of rest, in which he made two talks to working men and conferred with Senator Burton and other leaders, President Taft spoke tonight in the Central armory. The crowd taken to spare, Taft in the end kept him quiet showed in the night speeches. It was a rejuvenated president that faced the audience. He was more emphatic and more incisive than he had been for the last two days. Although he still was hoarse, his voice was strong.

"I am here most reluctantly, but I am here from a sense of duty," said the president. "I am here to ask justice for an Ohio president."

Put Up Same Defense

The president made the same sort of speech as throughout his Ohio tour, but at times he varied the argument for support. Speaking of the Payne tariff bill and the need existing for further revision, Mr. Taft got a laugh and a cheer by remarking: "If the Democrats will only give me the money I will see that the schedule which are too high, will be revised."

Mr. Taft spoke for an hour and a half and made probably the most comprehensive defense of his own administration that he has delivered in the recent campaign. Interruptions and words of encouragement were heard frequently.

The president brought again the charges that Mr. Roosevelt, Senator Dixon, his campaign manager, and the Democrats in the senate were responsible for the weakening of the British and French arbitration treaties.

"I propose, however," said the president, "whether in or out of office, to carry on the agitation for these treaties."

Spending the night here, the president will leave early tomorrow for western Ohio.

MODERATORSHIP TO SEATTLE MINISTER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 16.—The moderatorship, the highest honor in the gift of twenty-four hundred and twenty-fourth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, in session, went on the first ballot today to the Rev. Dr. Mark Allison Matthews, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Seattle, Wash. Out of 805 votes cast Dr. Matthews received 415, 403 being necessary to elect.

Election of the moderator overshadowed in interest the sermon of the retiring moderator, the Rev. John F. Carson of Brooklyn, who declared that the church still is the living, vital force it has been through the ages, warning that danger lies, not in too little practical Christianity but in neglect of its "spiritual function."

Consideration of the secret business of the board and assembly will come later in the session.

Most of the nominal membership of the assembly, 900, is expected by tomorrow.

Tonight the commissioners celebrated the Lord's supper.

servative Roosevelt leaders. The Montana delegation, eight in number, will go to Chicago with a recommendation to use every effort to bring about the re-nomination of President Taft. A Tipton press said they had assured themselves that these delegates would be Taft men first, last and all the time.

The delegates received 241 votes to their opponents' 235.

APPROPRIATES $100,000

TO CLOSE BIG CREVASSE

NEW ORLEANS, May 16.—Hymelia, a levee 25 miles north of here, will be closed within 10 days if the expenditure of $250,000 can effect the object desired. Today the Mississippi River commission decided to appropriate $100,000 for the work and an equal amount or more, if necessary, has been pledged by property owners affected and state and parish authorities.

The work of tying the ends of the crevasse, which today reached a width of 720 feet, was begun at noon, and this afternoon material was assembled for the work of cribbing. By tomorrow more than 1,000 men will be employed.

Water from the crevasse spread about nine or 10 miles inland, Capt. James A. Logan, who is in charge of the relief work, says the state came here today and organized his corps for rescue work in the territory affected by the Hymelia crevasse. He has several army officers in the field already, with eight gasoline launches and many skiffs. Besides these three revenue cutters, the Davey, the Win-dom and Winona, are at hand. The engineers expressed belief that there would be no further serious crevasses in this territory.

I care nothing for the cities—they are all alike, and have little beauty. Ah! beauty—that is what I love. It is everywhere in the world. I love the quiet and the rest—that is what I seek—and I travel for pleasure. I shall go from here to the Grand Canyon. It is wonderful. Is it not? Then to San Francisco and then to Alaska, where they have the icebergs and the beautiful sunsets."

"They have gold there," was remarked.

Hustle and Worry of Business Life Are a Constant Strain.

NEW TONIC IS A READY RELIEF

C. G. McCullough Tells of Experience With "Tona Vita."

Twenty-five per cent of the people of Colorado Springs find life a burden and have little real happiness. The cause is nervous debility and it is produced by modern conditions in a big city.

This statement was made recently by one of the specialists who are giving remarkable demonstrations at the Robinson Drug Company.

According to this specialist the hustler and worry incident to metropolitan life is too much of a strain on the average man or woman and chronic nervous debility is the result. The specialist claims that no individual can hope to succeed or enjoy life when once this disease is established and that comparatively few people know the cause of their poor health and lack of vitality.

Tired, droopy, half sick men and women are very numerous in all large cities," said these specialists. They have uncertain appetites, poor digestion, little ambition and feel almost too tired for work most of the time. They suffer from timidity, have no initiative and haven't enough good, rich blood in their veins to make them capable or self-reliant. Their nerves are in such a state that they imagine themselves afflicted with various diseases at different times. The real trouble with them is debility, produced by the life they are forced to live. There is little of this ailment among country people.

The medical profession as a whole, has recognized these facts for a number of years, but little was done to overcome this ailment, so far as the general public is concerned, until a tonic was introduced in Europe some time ago which proved effective. A company has been organized to put a similar preparation on the market in the United States. The tonic is called "Tona Vita" in this country and it is now being introduced in many cities here. We have charge of this work in Colorado Springs and we expect to get wonderful results.

Mr. C. G. McCullough, owner of the Two-Fifty Shoe Store at No. 121 South Tejon street, made the following statement. He said: "I was troubled with a slight stomach trouble. After using a half bottle of 'Tona Vita' I feel a remarkable change in my condition. I am now more rested when I arise in the morning and feel better generally. I am willing to recommend this tonic to anyone in my former condition."

The specialists will meet all callers at the Robinson Drug Company, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 8 p. m., all the rest of this week and will give a free sample of the new tonic to those who wish to try "Tona Vita." The medicine is sold with the understanding that it must prove satisfactory to the purchaser or the price is refunded.

DARROW JURY MAY BE COMPLETED TODAY

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Indications at the close of the second day of the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney, indicted for alleged jury bribery, pointed to the probable completion of the jury by tomorrow night. When court adjourned tonight 11 men had been tentatively passed by the prosecution and defense, and one was under challenge for cause by the defense. Peremptory challenges are expected to be used by both sides tomorrow. Homer Laughlin Jr., a young Los Angeles millionaire, was the spokesman challenged by the defense, and he was locked up with the other prospective jurors tonight pending the ruling of Judge Hutton.

The examination of Laughlin occupied nearly two hours at the afternoon session, and it brought about frequent tiffs between opposing counsel. In one of them Attorney Earl Rogers, for the defense, charged the district attorney's office with "peddling information" in order to influence prospective jurors that it had a "clinch case" against Darrow. District Attorney Frederick warmly denied the accusation.

The relation of the Darrow case to economic conditions as concerning difficulties between labor and capital was emphasized in the examination of Laughlin who admitted that he had trouble with labor unions while in the Milwaukee, Wis. business and some interests with which he was connected had contributed to the McNamara prosecution fund. He held, however, that he could give the defendant a fair trial. In relating the challenge, the prosecution showed its intention of compelling the defense to use a peremptory challenge on Laughlin. The defense had 15 challenges and the state has five.

MOTHER HERE TO CLAIM TINY TITANIC SURVIVORS

NEW YORK, May 16.—Death from starvation, thirst and exposure was the end of the three men from the steamer Titanic whose bodies were in a collapsible boat picked up last Monday by the steamer Oceanic, in the opinion of Dr. W. S. French of the medical staff of the Oceanic, which docked here today. Dr. French's opinion is based on the finding of small bits of cork in the mouths of the dead men, which he believed they chewed to allay the pangs of hunger. One of the bodies is believed to be that of Thompson Beattie, a passenger, and the others of mothers. Mme. Marcelle Naville of Nice, France, arrived on the Oceanic to claim her two children, Michel and Edmund, who were res-

MONEY TRUST AIDED BRAZIL HELPED COUNTRY LIMIT COFFEE PRODUCTION

In This Way Prices Were Maintained at Profitable Figure

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The first illustration of the success of the so-called money trust in the coffee business was given today by the investigating committee. It was testimony that three New York banking institutions, the National City bank, J. Pierpont Morgan and Company, and the First National bank, lent financial assistance to Brazil to limit the output of coffee and maintain prices at a profitable level for the benefit of Brazilian planters and American and European coffee dealers.

This testimony came from Herman Slicker of the New York firm of Grossman and Slicker, large dealers in green coffee. His testimony was the first oral information given to the committee.

Mr. Slicker attributed to the National City bank a patriotic motive for its investment. He regarded the loan by the bank as of great benefit to the United States and said the bank made the loan reluctantly to exploit American trade with South America.

Witness Becomes Excited.

Mr. Slicker was excited at several points of his testimony. He questioned the propriety of the commission going into Brazil's affairs and as for his own participation, challenged the attorney general of the United States and all the attorneys of the country to discover any illegality in his action as a coffee merchant.

The witness said unless something had been done to help the planters of Brazil, there might have been a revolution. The price of coffee had grown so low through over-production that the Brazilian government exercised its right to encourage planters to diversify their crops. He said that while a tax had been put on planting of coffee, the Brazilian government and the state of Sao Paulo had not tried to prohibit planting.

"Which would have been the worse revolution in Sao Paulo or for the consumers of this country to pay more for their coffee?" asked Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee.

"You would have had to pay that way," said the witness.

He charged that coffee would be still higher if the valorization scheme had not been put into operation.

Production and Prices Increased.

Mr. Untermyer read from tables to show that the production of coffee for several years amounted to but 6,000,000 bags and that it sold at from $12 to 7 cents a pound. Now the production was 14,000,000 bags and the price was between 13 and 14 cents a pound. This was accomplished by withholding from the market the surplus supply of coffee, he said.

Mr. Slicker testified that there were 4,000,000 bags of coffee now being held out of the market by the valorization committee of seven of which he is a member.

Of that amount 900,000 bags were in warehouses of the New York Dock company, he said.

"Would not the price of coffee go down if this were put on the market?" asked Representative Byrnes.

"No, it would have no effect on the market," said Mr. Slicker.

The big loan by which the valorization scheme was floated was 15,000,000 pounds sterling. English, German, French and Belgian bankers took 11,000,000 through J. H. Seligman & Co. of London who sold to the National City bank 2,000,000 pounds sterling. This amount was prorated between the Morgan bank, the National City and the First National.

Mr. Slicker's testimony was heard at this time, out of the order originally planned by Edwin H. Farrar and Mr. Untermyer, counsel for the committee, in order to permit Mr. Slicker to go to Europe. Chairman Pule announced that no other witnesses were to be called immediately.

cued from the Titanic, while their father perished.

The widow was met at the pier by her cousin, Miss Rose Bruce of Elkins Park, Md., and Miss Margaret Hays of this city, who for weeks cared for the little survivors.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the coming months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the time. It works gently and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

'The' COLORADO SPRINGS DRY GOODS CO. 120-122 SOUTH TEJON ST.

STRONG COMPETITION RESULTED IN TRUST

NEW YORK, May 16.—How and why the so-called Sugar Trust was formed was told today before the special examiner in the government's dissolution suit by Julius A. Sturberg, formerly secretary of the Brooklyn Refining company, who was called as a witness. Strong competition was the reason assigned by Mr. Sturberg.

Mr. Sturberg said that after the first agreement had been entered into in 1885 all refineries were closed down for 18 days to reduce the over production of sugar.

"Did negotiations to form the sugar refineries company follow that shut down?" asked the district attorney.

"No, sir," answered the witness, "red-hot war followed."

"And after the 'red-hot war,'" prompted the district attorney.

"Bad business," Sturberg said that under the "trust" firmers should be directed by 11 trustees. The original trustees he said, were Henry O. Havemeyer, F. O. Matthiessen, John E. Sturges, Theodore Havemeyer, Joseph E. Monnar, Hector Havemeyer, Charles Schiff, John E. Parsons, John E. Sturges, Jr., William F. Havemeyer and Julius A. Sturberg.

which was built for a boarding house in the boom days of the city, has been uncovered for years owing to the strange and uncanny happenings at night.

Apparent hammering of the water and gas pipes around the sleeping quarters at intervals, one room in particular being flooded by light as soon as the door was opened. A rigid investigation failed to reveal the spooks, but the house could not keep a tenant long, owing to the freak things going on within.

The property passed into new hands the other day and in repairing it the workmen found that poor electric wiring was the cause of all the trouble. The wires came in contact with the gas pipes, the gas pipes acted as spark plugs, lighting the gas at intervals. The hammering sounds were caused by the electric current contracting the pipes.

After removing the old gas fixtures and rewiring the building the freak happenings and noises disappeared.

FAIR APPROPRIATION IS TO BE SETTLED IN COURT

DENVER, May 16.—A delegation of Pueblo business men, led by ex-Governor Alva Adams, J. L. Beaman, president of the state fair association, Robert H. Higgins, chairman of the Pueblo county commissioners, and J. H. Jenkins, secretary of the Pueblo commerce club today visited state officials to see what may be done to get the state fair appropriation of $10,000 paid. It was finally deemed best for the protection of the state officials that State Auditor M. A. Ledy should be mandamusd. By court action it can be determined whether the appropriation is a third or fourth class one. It probably can be paid if it is in the third class. The Pueblo men left a subcommittee here to continue the conference tomorrow.

Tax Commission Is Legal, in Opinion of Supreme Court

DENVER, May 16.—In reply to a recent letter from Governor John F. Shafroth, the judges of the supreme court today unanimously expressed their opinion that the state tax commission, created by a law passed by the last general assembly, is legal and should have been appointed. The court says that the tax commission only has the right to make the assessments on corporations doing inter-county business and that the board of equalization is deprived of the power. Thus all assessments on railroads, telephones, telegraphs and express companies for this year will be invalid, if they are made by the board of equalization. They must be fixed by a state tax commission before June 15, the time limit for levies.

The law gives to the governor and treasurer the power of appointing the three members of the commission. The governor and Treasurer Rooder Kennedy could not agree on appointees and no commission was named, the board of equalization doing the work of the new body as before.

It is the governor's contention that under the referendum section of the initiative and referendum law the bill could not become law until 90 days after the adjournment of the assembly. On this basis he held that the assessments made by the board of equalization for last year were legal. The court today in its opinion suggests that if the referendum limit is illegal and the commission should have been appointed within 30 days as usual last year's assessments would be illegal. The point probably will allow an opening for court tests of the constitutionality of the initiative and referendum and of the legality of last year's assessments.

The tax commission question was raised by a suit filed by a Boulder corporation contesting its assessment. The court today merely gave the governor an opinion and did not make a decision.

The Selection of a Temporary Chairman a Problem to Solve

CHICAGO, May 16.—One of the problems which the subcommittee on arrangements for the national Republican convention faces is the selection of a temporary chairman for the convention in June. This question may come up at the meeting of the subcommittee, which has been called by Chairman New for Saturday.

Colonel New disclaimed the idea that he would name the temporary chairman, but said he might suggest a few names for their consideration.

In political circles the naming of the temporary chairman was the subject of much gossip. It was suggested that at the speech of the temporary chairman would in a degree be expected to sound the keynote of the campaign, the temporary chairman should be a friend of the man who would be named as the nominee of the party for president.

CANAL ADMINISTRATION MEASURE INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Panama canal bill, providing for the administration of the canal zone and the operation of the canal, was introduced in the house today. As a result of more than seven hours' debate opponents of certain provisions of the measure affected to discover a "loophole" which they claimed would give to Canadian railroad-owned steamships a monopoly of the traffic through the Panama canal at the expense of American railroad-owned vessels, which would be barred under the terms of the measure. They prophesied as a result the commercial overthrow of Boston, Seattle and Portland, Oregon.

A bitter fight seems certain over the provision which would prohibit railroad-owned vessels from passing through the canal. Up to tonight the Pacific coast delegation in the house was unanimously in favor of the prohibition. Their future course probably will be the subject of a conference.

RIOTOUS SESSION OF COLORED CHURCHMEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—After a session of confusion marked by the commissioning of police to quell the 1,500 delegates and their friends who crowded into Allen chapel, which ordinarily can accommodate but 500 persons, the African Methodist Episcopal conference today elected four bishops. As each bishop was elected, his adherents placed him upon their shoulders and acclaiming him with shouts carried him about the hall.

Tomorrow the general officers of the conference will be elected.

CIVIL ANTI-TRUST SUIT FILED BY GOVERNMENT

PITTSBURGH, May 16.—The federal government filed a civil anti-trust suit against the Aluminum Company of America, which will be the basis for an agreed decree designed to restrain the so-called aluminum trust from monopolizing the manufacture of aluminum and its products, including cooking utensils.

In a petition in equity in the United States court for the western district of Pennsylvania the company is charged with being a monopoly restraining interstate and foreign commerce in violation of the Sherman law. It is declared to have acquired a substantial control of the aluminum industry in the United States and to have charged unreasonably high prices and profits on its products. The dissolution of the corporation is not sought but the court is asked to issue nine broad injunctions against alleged unlawful contracts, combination, conspiracies and practices.

Arrange for Impressive Funeral Services for Late King of Denmark

COPENHAGEN, May 16.—Preparations have been completed for an impressive burial of the body of the late King Frederick VIII of Denmark which will arrive here at noon tomorrow.

King Haskon VII of Norway, son of the dead monarch, and other members of royal families, high government officials and foreign diplomatic representatives will assemble at the landing place, from which the procession will start for the chapel of Christianborg palace. It will pass through the principal streets, which have been draped in mourning, to the church of St. Nikolaj.

At the chapel a short service will be held and the body will remain there, guarded day and night by detachments of army and navy lieutenants, until the funeral at Roskilde cathedral on May 24.

King Christian has made the suggestion that in accordance with the late king's known wishes, the customary wreaths of gold and silver be omitted.

Organizations proposing to offer such tributes are requested to devote the money to charities in which King Frederick was interested and to substitute simple floral offerings.

WARDEN SHOWS SOFT HEART

By Permitting Convict to Be By Mother's Side a Dangerous Operation Was Made Successful

TRINIDAD, May 16.—The kindness of Warden Tynan of the Colorado penitentiary undoubtedly saved the life of Mrs. A. Schimlenz, a resident of Trinidad, from death this morning, when in good spirits because her son, Albert Schimlenz, a convict, stood near the operating table, she submitted to an operation which had been the least worried would have not proven successful. Albert Schimlenz, accompanied by a guard, arrived in the city Wednesday evening to be with his mother at the critical moment. He was sentenced to the penitentiary in 1907 for from seven to 10 years for arson, he being found guilty of burning the tippie at the Sopris mine causing a loss of several thousand dollars.

ALMOST FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA ON HANDS

Began with Itching. Spread Fast. Fingers Fairly Bled. Cried Night and Day. Tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Entirely Cured.

Radcliffe Beach, Cal.—"Eight years ago I got eczema all over my hands. My fingers fairly bled and it itched until it almost drove me frantic. The eruption began with itching under the skin. It spread fast from between the fingers around the nails and all over the whole hands. I got a pair of rubber gloves in order to wash dishes. Then it spread all over the left side of my chest. I cried night and day. Then I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had without much hope at first. I had gone so long without relief that I felt that it was all over. I used Cuticura Soap for a few days and, and when five months old was a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet-faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and also times out of the nest, I see the mother who says 'Oh I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.'"

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free with 32-p. book. Address: "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should share with Cuticura Soap Shaving Cream.

PRESIDENT SHOWS MORE VIM AFTER DAY OF REST

Tells Ohioans He Is Fighting Because Outcome Is More Vital to People Than to Him

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—"I would not be here to bother you tonight if it did not concern the American people more than it does me, to defeat Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency."

That was the way President Taft introduced his criticism of Colonel Roosevelt here tonight.

"If it were a purely personal matter with me," he continued, "I would be content to abide the verdict of time and some reasonableness and attacks upon me. But more than my own feelings in the matter is at stake. It is of supreme importance to the American people."

After a day of rest, in which he made two talks to working men and conferred with Senator Burton and other leaders, President Taft spoke tonight in the Central armory. The care taken to spare his throat and keep him quiet showed in the night speeches. It was a rejuvenated president that faced the audience. He was more emphatic and more incisive than he had been for the last two days. Although he still was hoarse, his voice was strong.

"I am here, most reluctantly, but I am here from a sense of duty," said the president. "I am here to ask justice for an Ohio president."

Puts Up Same Defense.

The president made the same sort of speech as throughout his Ohio tour, but at times he varied the argument for support. Speaking of the Payne tariff bill and the need existing for further revision, Mr. Taft got a laugh and a cheer by remarking:

"If the Democrats will only give me the money, I will see that the schedules which are too high, will be revised."

Mr. Taft spoke for an hour and a half and made probably the most comprehensive defense of his own administration that he has delivered in the recent campaign. Interruptions and words of encouragement were heard frequently.

The president brought again the charges that Mr. Roosevelt, Senator Dixon, his campaign manager, and the Democrats in the senate were responsible for the weakening of the British and French arbitration treaties.

"I propose, however," said the president, "whether in or out of office, to carry on the agitation for these treaties."

Spending the night here, the president will leave early tomorrow for western Ohio.

MODERATORSHIP TO SEATTLE MINISTER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 16.—The moderatorship, the highest honor in the gift of the one hundred and twenty-fourth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, in session, was on the first ballot today to the Rev. Dr. Mark Allison Matthews, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Seattle, Wash. Out of 865 votes cast Dr. Matthews received 418, 403 being necessary to elect.

Election of the moderator overshadowed in interest the sermon of the retiring moderator, the Rev. John F. Carson of Brooklyn, who declared that the church still is the living, vital force. It has been through the ages, warning that danger lies, not in too little practical Christianity but in neglect of its "spiritual function."

Consideration of the secret business of the board and assembly will come later in the session.

Most of the nominal membership of the assembly, 900, is expected by tomorrow.

Tonight the commissioners celebrated the Lord's supper.

servative Roosevelt leaders.

The Montana delegation, eight in number, will go to Chicago with a recommendation to use every effort to bring about the re-nomination of President Taft. Taft forces said they had assured themselves that these delegates would be Taft men first, last and all the time.

The delegates received 241 votes to their opponents' 235.

APPROPRIATES $100,000 TO CLOSE BIG CREVASSE

NEW ORLEANS, May 16.—Hymelia crevasse, 25 miles north of here, will be closed within 10 days if the expenditure of $100,000 can effect the object desired. Today the Mississippi River commission decided to appropriate $100,000 for the work, and an equal amount or more, if necessary, has been pledged by property owners affected and state and parish authorities.

The work of tying the ends of the crevasse, which today reached a width of 720 feet, was begun at noon, and this afternoon material was assembled for the work of cribbing. By tomorrow more than 1,000 men will be employed.

Water from the crevasse spread about nine or 10 miles inland, today, but no lives have been sacrificed. Capt. James A. Logan, who is in charge of the relief work in this state, came here today and organized his corps for rescue work in the territory affected by the Hymelia crevasse. He has several army officers in the field already, with eight gasoline launches and many skiffs. Besides these three revenue cutters, the Davey, the Windem and Winona, are at hand. The engineers expressed belief that there would be no further serious crevasses in this territory.

Charley Hall tops the list of winning pitchers with the Boston Red Sox, and is the real "hope" of the Hub fans.

Hustle and Worry of Business Life Are a Constant Strain.
NEW TONIC IS A READY RELIEF
C. G. McCullough Tells of Experience With "Tona Vita."
Twenty-five per cent of the people of Colorado Springs find life a burden and have little real happiness. The cause is nervous debility and it is produced by modern conditions in a big city. One of the specialists who has given some remarkable demonstrations at the Robinson Drug Company.

According to this specialist the hustle and worry incident to metropolitan life is too much of a strain on the average man or woman and through nervous debility is the result. The specialist claims that no individual can hope to succeed or enjoy life when once this disease is established and that comparatively few people know the cause of their poor health and lack of vitality.

Tired, drooping, half sick men and women are very numerous in all large cities, say these specialists. They have uncertain appetites, poor digestion, little ambition and feel almost too tired for work most of the time. They suffer from timidity, have no initiative and haven't enough good, rich blood in their veins to make them capable of self-reliance. Their nerves are in such a state that they imagine themselves afflicted with various diseases at different times. The real trouble with them is debility, produced by the life they are forced to live. There is little of this ailment among country people.

The medical profession as a whole, has recognized these facts for a number of years but little was done to overcome this ailment, so far as the general public is concerned, until a tonic was introduced in Europe some time ago which proved effective. A company has been organized to put a similar preparation on the market in the United States. The tonic is called Tona Vita in this country and it is now being introduced in many cities.

We have charge of this work at Colorado Springs and we expect to get wonderful results. Mr. C. G. McCullough, owner of the Two-Fifty Shoe Store at No. 121 South Tejon street, made the following statement. He said: "I was troubled with a slight stomach distress. After using a half bottle of Tona Vita I feel a remarkable change in my condition. I am now more rested when I arise in the morning and feel better generally. I am willing to recommend this tonic to anyone in my former condition."

The specialists will meet all callers at the Robinson Drug Company between the hours of 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. all the rest of this week and will give a free sample of the new tonic to those who wish to try "Tona Vita." The medicine is sold with the understanding that it must prove satisfactory to the purchaser or the price is refunded.

NARROW JURY MAY BE COMPLETED TODAY

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Indications at the close of the second day of the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney, indicted for alleged jury bribery, pointed to the probable completion of the jury by tomorrow night. When court adjourned tonight 11 men had been tentatively passed by the prosecution and defense, and one was under challenge for cause by the defense. Peremptory challenges are expected to be used by both sides tomorrow. Homer Laughlin Jr., a young Los Angeles millionaire was the witness challenged by the defense, and he was locked up with the other prospective jurors tonight pending the ruling of Judge Hutton.

The examination of Laughlin occupied nearly two hours at the afternoon session, and it brought about frequent fits between opposing counsel. In one of them Attorney Earl Rogers, for the defense, charged the district attorney's office with "peddling information" in order to influence prospective jurors that it had a "clinch case" against Darrow. District Attorney Fredericks warmly denied the accusation.

The relation of the Darrow case to economic conditions as concerning difficulties between labor and capital was emphasized in the examination of Laughlin who admitted that he had trouble with labor unions while in the manufacturing business and that in connection with which he was introduced had contributed to the McNamara prosecution fund. He held, however, that he could give the defendant a fair trial. In resisting the challenge, the prosecution avowed its intention of compelling the defense to use a peremptory challenge on Laughlin. The defense had 10 challenges and the state has five.

MOTHER HERE TO CLAIM TINY TITANIC SURVIVORS

NEW YORK, May 16.—Death from starvation, thirst and exposure was the end of the three men from the steamer Titanic whose bodies were in a collapsible boat picked up last Monday by the steamer Oceanic. In the opinion of Dr. W. S. French of the medical staff of the Oceanic, which docked here today, Dr. French's opinion is based on the finding of small bits of cork in the mouths of the dead men which he believed they chewed to allay the pangs of hunger. One of the bodies is believed to be that of Thompson Beattie, a passenger, and the others of sailors. Mme. Marcelle Naville of Nice, France, arrived on the Oceanic to claim her two children, Michel and Edmund, who were rescued from the Titanic while their father perished.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

HAILED BRAZIL HELPED COUNTRY LIMIT COFFEE PRODUCTION In This Way Prices Were Maintained at Profitable Figure

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The testimony of the United States bank J. Pierpont Morgan and company and the First National bank but financial assistance to the United States to limit the output of coffee and maintain prices at a profitable level, the benefit of Brazilian producers and American and European consumers.

This testimony came from Herman Slicker of the New York firm of Grossman and Slicker, who deals in green coffee. His testimony was the first oral information given to the committee.

Mr. Slicker attributed to the National City bank a primary motive for its investment. He pointed out the loan by the bank as of great benefit to the United States and said the bank made the loan reluctantly to exploit American trade with South America.

Witness Becomes Excited. Mr. Slicker was excited at several points of his testimony. He questioned the propriety of the commission going into Brazil's affairs and as for his own participation, challenged the attorney general of the United States and all the attorneys of the country to discover any illegality in his action as a coffee merchant.

The witness said unless something had been done to help the planters of Brazil, there might have been a revolution. The price of coffee had grown so low through over-production that the Brazilian government expressed its right to encourage planters to diversify their crops. He said that while a tax had been put on plantings of coffee, the Brazilian government and the state of San Paulo had not tried to prohibit the planting.

"Which would have been the cause of revolution in San Paulo or for the consumers of this country to pay more for their coffee?" asked Samuel Untermyer counsel for the committee. You would have had to pay that any way, said the witness.

He charged that coffee would be still higher if the valuation scheme had not been put into effect.

Production and Prices Increased. Mr. Untermyer read from tables to show that the production of coffee for several years amounted to but 6,000,000 bags and that it sold at from 6 1/2 to 7 cents a pound. Now the production was 14,000,000 bags and the price was between 13 and 14 cents a pound. This was accomplished by withholding from the market the surplus supply of coffee, he said.

Mr. Slicker testified that there were 4,000,000 bags of coffee now being held out of the market by the valuation committee of seven of which he is a member.

Of that amount 900,000 bags were in warehouses of the New York Dock company, he said.

Would not the price of coffee go down if this were put on the market? asked Representative Barnes. "No it would have no effect on the market," said Mr. Slicker.

The question by which the valuation scheme was framed was 15,000,000 pounds sterling. English, German, French and Belgian bankers took 13,000,000 through J. H. Schroeder of London who sold to the National City bank 2,000,000 pounds sterling. This amount was prorated between the Morgan bank, the National City and the First National.

Mr. Slicker's testimony was heard at this time of the order originally planned by Edwin H. Fair and Mr. Untermyer counsel for the committee to go to Europe. Chairman Fair announced that no other witnesses were to be called immediately.

Called from the Titanic while their father perished. The widow was met at the pier by her cousin Miss Rose Bruner of Elkins Park, Md., and Miss Margaret Hays of this city who for weeks cared for the little survivors.

STRONG COMPETITION RESULTED IN TRUST

NEW YORK, May 16.—H. H. Sturges, a witness called today before the special examiner in the government's case against a suit by Julius A. Sturberg, former secretary of the Brooklyn Reformatory company, who was called as a witness. Strong competition was the reason assigned by Mr. Sturberg.

Mr. Sturberg said that after the first agreement had been entered into in 1885 all refineries were closed down for 10 days to reduce the over production of sugar.

"Did negotiations to form the sugar refineries company follow that shut down?" asked the district attorney. "No, sir," answered the witness, "red-hot war followed."

"And after the red-hot war?" prompted the district attorney. "Bad business," Sturberg said that under the trust agreement it was contemplated the reformatory was to be run by the reformatory. The original trustees he said, were Henry O. Havemeyer, F. O. Matthieson, John E. Seales, Theodore Havemeyer, Joseph B. Bonnar, Hector Havemeyer, Charles Saff, John E. Parsons, John E. Seales, Jr., William F. Havemeyer and Julius A. Sturberg.

Stock to the par value of $50,000,000 he said, was owned by the trustees and $10,000,000 worth was distributed to the stockholders and owners of the refineries that entered into the combination. The remaining $15,000,000 of stock, he said, was put into the treasury for "future needs."

Mr. Sturberg named concerns in Boston, Philadelphia and southern states which were in competition with the Sugar Refineries company, the name of the corporation created by the "trust agreement" of 1887.

"Did you have much competition with Spreckels prior to 1891?" asked the district attorney.

Hot competition with Claiborne Spreckels and the Philadelphia refinery, answered the witness.

FAIR APPROPRIATION IS TO BE SETTLED IN COURT

DENVER, May 15.—A delegation of Pueblo business men led by ex-Governor Alva Adams, today visited State of Attorney Robert H. Hughes, Attorney General of the Pueblo county commissioners and H. H. Jenkins, secretary of the Pueblo county commissioners, to discuss the appropriation for the protection of the state of Pueblo from the state of Colorado. It was estimated that the appropriation for the protection of the state of Pueblo from the state of Colorado is a third or fourth less than it probably can be paid. It is in the third class. The Pueblo men left a subcommittee here to continue the conference tomorrow.

COLORADO CITY ANNEXATION

A FEW weeks ago a committee from Colorado City held a meeting with the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Avery and City Attorney McKesson to present a proposal to annex Colorado City to Colorado Springs. It was agreed that the Chamber of Commerce should ask the Council to appoint three members of a commission of six, the other three to be appointed by the Colorado City Council, to investigate the legal aspect of the matter and recommend a plan for bringing about the union.

Since then several attorneys have looked up the Colorado laws relating to the annexation of one city by another, and have found that a majority vote of all of the qualified electors of both cities is necessary. This is a very different thing from a mere majority of the votes cast. Public opinion in Colorado City appears to be favorable to annexation, and at the present time there is no evidence of opposition in Colorado Springs. It is true that agitation of the subject might bring forward an organized opposition in one place or the other, but the reasonable supposition now is that if the proposal were submitted at an election it would easily receive a majority of the votes cast.

But if it is really necessary to obtain a majority vote of all of the electors in both cities the case wears a very different aspect, for it is almost impossible in any election to get out a big enough vote to insure such a majority, however slight the opposition may be. So it would appear that if the attorneys who have investigated this question are correct in their understanding of the law, there is slight probability of Colorado City being annexed.

ADVANTAGES OF ANNEXING THE SUBURBS.

This turn of affairs is regrettable, for while the annexation of Colorado City would be of no important advantage to Colorado Springs, it certainly would not injure in any way and it would be of great advantage to Colorado City. The most important consideration from the standpoint of that town is the matter of freight rates. Colorado City is not a common point, so all freight shipments must pay an additional charge from Colorado Springs, amounting to from $15 to $25 a car. If manufacturing industries ever are to be developed in this region Colorado City is the most available place for them, but the barrier of additional freight rates stands squarely in the way. Annexation to Colorado Springs would solve this problem completely for shippers would then enjoy the benefit of the common point rates which apply to this city.

Another consideration which is worth while is the fact that the annexation of Colorado City, followed as it probably would be by the taking in of Roswell and Ivywild, would unify the entire community under one government. In every other respect they are now with identical interests. The maintenance of separate governments is wasteful and inefficient. Ivywild is as much a part of Colorado Springs as is the neighborhood immediately north of the southern boundary line, but the fact of its separate identity makes it impossible for the city to exercise proper supervision over health and other conditions there. The inclusion of this suburb within the city limits would increase the tax rate in Ivywild, but its people would gain advantages which would more than compensate for the additional outlay. The same considerations apply to Roswell.

The difficulty which has arisen with respect to the annexation of Colorado City does not concern Ivywild and Roswell, and it is not improbable that before long they will be taken in. But it would seem to be worth while, before finally dropping the Colorado City matter, to make a more thorough investigation and find whether there is not some other means by which the object can be attained.

IN Philadelphia the Public School authorities have taken steps to increase the efficiency of the schools as a means of getting the boy or girl actually started in life. Their plan is to establish a sort of employment agency whereby pupils who have shown special proficiency in any direction are to be aided in getting work. In short, they will maintain a bureau for the purpose of bringing prospective employers and employees together.

This is only a beginning, and it is admitted that the plan may not prove wholly workable, chiefly because the public schools do not, as a rule, provide the pupils with much practical training. In some European countries, especially Germany, the plan is used with entire success, but the difference lies in the fact that the aim of German education is to turn out graduates who know how to do useful things and are therefore competent to fill good positions. German employers habitually send to the school authorities when they want help, and thus the public school acts as an employment agency for the thousands of young men and women whom it trains for productive industry.

In cities which have properly conducted commercial and manual training schools this plan would appear to be entirely practicable. But in the vast majority of our cities and towns the problem is not so much one of getting a job for the graduate as it is of teaching him something which will enable him to hold a job after he gets one.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
So long as we ignore the legitimate demands and needs of childhood, so long as the exploitation of the pleasures of youth is a means for private profit, so long as poverty demands that our children become wage earners before they have reached physical maturity, to say nothing of intellectual and moral maturity, we will continue to have our youthful offenders, who must be dealt with by society and society's laws.

It was not many years ago that the public conscience was shocked by the spectacle of young children being tried in the police courts and being imprisoned with hardened criminals in the city and county jails, where often their first real lessons in immorality and crime were learned. The juvenile court movement is a protest against this inhuman treatment of little children, of young boys and girls. Colorado's juvenile court laws give her first rank in these matters pertaining to juvenile delinquency. In Colorado Springs by her actual interpretation of the spirit of those laws entitled to the place that the state occupies largely through Judge Lindsey's efforts.

One of the most dangerous things that can befall an individual or a community is to have the semblance of a thing and to miss the reality. To be sure we have a juvenile court. We have a juvenile court judge. We have a probation officer. We have a detention home. We have our state industrial schools. But we also have the spectacle in Colorado Springs of youthful offenders, both boys and girls being locked up like common criminals in the county jail. A boy of 14 was confined in the jail for several days during the past year before being committed to the Boys Industrial School at Golden. Two young girls, one 16 and one 17, were sent to the juvenile court, and committed to the Girls Industrial School; but they were first sent to the county jail to be "locked up" over night. Today's paper informs us that a 15-year-old girl has been committed by the order of the juvenile judge to the county jail.

Observe what this means. The very worst feature of the old, and supposedly discarded method of dealing with delinquent children is still in effect in Colorado Springs. Of what avail the efforts to persuade the delinquent boy or girl that the industrial school is an opportunity for education, when the process of education is begun by a stay in the county jail along with the thief and the common prostitute?

One of the girls thus imprisoned said that she had made up her mind that it would do her good to go to the industrial school. "I used to like to go to school, anyway," she said. Then she was taken to the county jail. Her former companions jeered her as they saw her enter accompanied by the sheriff. "I hadn't done anything to go to jail for," she cried. "I can never forget it." The girl said that she had wept the whole night, for she realized that she was disgraced for life.

We have a detention home in Ivywild. Why is it not used? Why do we allow our unfortunate children who have already been denied so much of the joy and beauty of life to be still further degraded by being treated like common criminals?

If we do allow these things, let us face the fact that we have the semblance and not the reality of enlightened treatment of juvenile delinquents; let us realize that we today in the state of Colorado, are guilty of the outrageous treatment accorded youth in the days when the juvenile court was not yet dreamed of.

RULE OF THE SEA CRITICISED

An Englishman Who Reminds What Happened on the Titanic

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

Here is a letter from an Englishman in California who does not think much of the "rule of the sea" as applied on the Atlantic Ocean.

"Sir:—When I was in the U. S. Navy, I was 100 to 150 miles from the coast. This thing of boats for women, stokers and stewards only does not make a bit with me, and I am 7,000 miles from home (California), and expect to be returning ere long.

"Through cabled dispatches we learn from personal statements of women survivors in at least three boats that they bent to the oars because the 'crews' of their lifeboats—stokers, waiters and cooks—did not know how to.

"After a captain has thrown away his ship, because he has disregarded wireless warnings sent him almost hourly from the captains of other vessels, it is an very well for him to shout through a megaphone, 'Be British!' but why should you and I remain on board to drown like rats in a big iron cage while stokers and stewards, ignorant of oars and boats, are scurrying in the guise of boat's crews? I can vouch for three of the Titanic's heroes having been strong, useful oarsmen, and powerful fellows such as a lifeboat needs—Major Butt, Mr. Astor and Mr. Burrelle. It is heartrending that they perished passively when they were entitled to win one of the boats in which women struggled at the oars.

"Suppose it had been a dirty night! Dark, with

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

With a rule, washing sheet and finding an only one seen at the long, heavy oars, instead of desperate women and unskilled ship's waiters and cabin attendants! Would the Carpathia have found 100 per cent to rescue a—down?

"If those most beloved by you had to be lowered in a crowded boat from a deck the height of a church spire, which would you prefer for them—experienced oarsmen of two oars, two cool-passers, and two bed-makers, or a crew of passengers, not made up of variety oarsmen, but comprising, say two men that had rowed in either their college eight or 'torpids' at Oxford or Cambridge, two that had been members of the 'rowing squad' at Cornell, Pennsylvania, California, or any other rowing university in the U. S. A., and two active members of the Royal Canadian, or the Royal St. Lawrence, or the Rochester, or Detroit, or Chicago Yacht clubs—and such a boat's crew can be found among the passengers of a transatlantic liner any day.

"I do not doubt but what several members of the average liner's crew do know something about handling oars and a boat, but let me say that there is a big difference between sculling about in a dinghy when a ship is in harbor and managing the business end of a long, heavy car in a wicked sea. I write from personal experience.

"Giving one's life for women and children is one thing. Self-immolation for the benefit of stewards and coal-passers is another. This is something the shipping companies will have to face. What would your rowing readers do in such circumstances? I don't know much about the peoples of the eastern states and eastern provinces of North America, but I could tell you pretty nearly what would be done by any man coming from west of a line drawn through Hudson bay to the mouth of the Mississippi. Respectfully yours,
E. G. B. FITZHAMON.

OVERMANNED PROFESSIONS.

From the Chicago Tribune.

Most of the professions are overmanned. The result is injustice and disappointment to many who enter them and to many who have made heavy sacrifices that their sons might belong to them.

Speaking recently to young men at the Y. M. C. A., Dean Wigmore gave the following estimate: "About sixteen-twentieths of the lawyers in Chicago make from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. One-twentieth make $4,000, one-twentieth $5,000, one-twentieth $6,000 or more. There are not over 10 lawyers in the city who make more than $10,000 a year.

In too many cases the earnings, though small, is adequate, because the man is not fitted for the difficult work of the law either by thorough education or by natural aptitude. These men are economic misfits. But they divide the total rewards, even though they get little individually.

The same is true of the medical profession. In both cases the test of entrance should be stricter, so that only the proved fit could win. This is not undemocratic. It is just to those who are fit and to those who are not fit; and an important consideration—it is just to clients and patients, who should be protected from inferior service, and to society, which needs every man at the best work he is fitted to do.

Of all the good advice constantly bawled at man, probably this is the favorite: "Work harder!"

The modern father, in order to avoid humiliation, should quit whipping his boys before two of the biggest ones are able to combine and take the stick away from him.

What has become of the old-fashioned guinea, hens that were kept for their voices?

You may easily get rid of the terror of ghosts by realizing that there are none.

You can't "do up" a rival by talking about him, and telling what a mean man he is. The only way to defeat him is to be more industrious than he is, more agreeable, and more honorable in your dealings.

There is one thing that people won't stand in any man: for him to feel that he is "above them."

The Mother Who Was Too Busy

By RUTH CAMERON.

In a beautiful big back yard upon which one of my study windows looks, seven youngsters were having the time of their lives the other day, and the central feature of all their fun was a most wonderful tent constructed out of two shawls and a sheet. The sheet was stretched from the back piazza roof to the clothes line, the shawl formed one side, and the gray shawl the other. I watched the whole construction of this affair from the moment when the gigantic idea was advanced in concave, to the moment when the tent was finished, and the seven youngsters trooped proudly in.

And as I watched, there suddenly came to me from across the years—as poignantly as if it were something actual like a fragrance or a strain of music—the memory of similar good times of my own, centering around similar undertakings. I remembered one gloriously arduous Saturday spent in building a string telephone from my window to the window of another child.

Now of the little boy, last autumn, of an old cat, to manufacture an aquarium out of an old wash tub, a few water weeds, some minnows and three luckless pollywogs; and still another holiday when we built a house in the woodpile, and fitted it up like a log cabin, and played pioneer all the long afternoon.

How I used to trot in and out of the house, excited, busy and absolutely happy! How I used to rush to the little mother for the string for the telephone, the wash pan for the aquarium, an old blanket for the log cabin, and mercy knows what not! And how patiently she always gave them to me!

You see, she was a mother who understood. As you think you mothers who are reading this? When the convalescence of the seven decided to have a tent the other morning, they disappeared to their separate homes in search of materials. From one home came the shawl; from another came the sheet and the gray shawl; but from two homes the sheets came back empty handed. You see, in each of those homes there was a mother who did not understand, who was "too busy."

Mothers and fathers, especially mothers, don't forget that little things like these are very big to children. Disproportionately big! A plaid shawl may mean so much fun to them, may give them more pleasure, perhaps, than some of your most expensive formal gifts. Can't you manage to have the time to find the plaid shawl?

I used to visit sometimes at a home where the children were never allowed any such liberties, where all such requests were invariably denied. The home was expensive and beautiful, but the children liked to go to other homes to play. And now that they are grown up they are never so happy as when they are away visiting.

Little things like these mean so very much to children that we must be careful how we refuse and deny, for we may be spoiling more happiness than we have any idea of.

FIRST AID TO INJURED HEARTS

By Laura Jean Libbey

THE FORTUNE TELLING FAD

(Copyright, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.)

Do you believe in fortune telling? Not one woman out of a thousand will frankly admit it. On the contrary, she takes pains to deny it most emphatically.

No! Not for worlds would she have anyone know that she had faith in foretelling events. Nor is the spinner of backward in denouncing it, although, when off on a vacation where gypsies are encamped, she insists that she visited them with a crowd merely to have her palm read.

Young girls usually are ardent believers in fortune telling until some love affair, which was predicted to run smoothly and to result in marriage, came tumbling down about them. Women are more apt to become fascinated with this fad than men are. Young women are given to attaching great significance to the lightest words of the skillful soothsayer.

Three young men, once upon a time, dared each other to enter a gypsy's camp to have their fortunes told. When they all met outside the tent all joined in a hearty laugh over what had been told them, agreeing that it was a case of "fools and their money being easily parted." Each doubted the old gypsy woman's "take." The old gypsy, overhearing them, thrust her head out of the tent and shaking her finger at them, exultantly exclaimed: "The three of you can laugh, but I've got your three dollars!"

It is always the troubles which we expect will happen us that are sidetracked somehow and never occur.

ANSWERS

"Dear Miss Libbey: I would like to hear public opinion pertaining to the young girl who has been allowed by her parents at an age of 15 or 16 years to have boy callers. These boys and girls are allowed to be by themselves as they wish, the parents of the girl apparently not giving the matter a second thought. As a result, not realizing what they are doing, they often entertain each other by spooning." By the time the girl is 21 years of age she begins to see that she is not attracting the right kind of young men and that no young man remains interested in her for any length of time. Of course, the reason is on account of lack of respect.

Now, what I wish you to discuss is how is a girl who has been a victim of such circumstances and who is sincerely desirous of reforming going to overcome her reputation as a "spooner" and attract the proper kind of young men? Of course the parents are really more to blame than is the girl, but the fact remains that there are many young girls who acquire this habit at an age when they ought to be with their mothers rather than having boy callers, and all because their parents do not seem to take the proper interest in their welfare. Also, many of these girls later wish—and sincerely wish—to stop the practice. I do not mean to infer that she has done anything immoral; my statement of the facts is based on the supposition that she has done nothing more than to be a promiscuous kisser. HELPFUL.

MET AT MASQUERADE.

"Dear Miss Libbey: Last week, while attending a masquerade given by my dad's society, I became acquainted with a dear young lady about one year my junior. We were together the greater part of the evening, as we seemed to enjoy each other's company. We agreed to meet at the same hall one week later at another masquerade. She is 18, good-looking and a good dancer. I am 15 and also a fairly good dancer. I would like to find out if it makes any difference that I was not introduced to her, or if it is necessary at a masquerade? DAVID."

No; it would have been better for you to have been introduced to her, but as you probably know who she is, and she is taking her into your confidence.

HE WORKS IN A GLOVE FACTORY.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am much in love with a fellow whom I have never met but whom I see no the street most every day. He is an awfully swell looking fellow and I think from the way that he looks at me that he loves me, too. I have heard a fellow keep steady company with that he works in a glove factory for $10 a week. Would it be right for me to ask my steady fellow to give me an introduction to this other fellow and then turn my steady bean down? And is $10 enough for us to get married on and live in a small town? L. A."

There would be no harm in asking your friend to introduce you. You seem pretty sure of getting hold of the other fellow. You may be disappointed. He may not be as taken with you as you are with him. Whether one could marry on $10 a week depends upon the couple and how much they are willing to sacrifice for each other.

THE HASKIN LETTER

CARIBBEAN POLITICS

XVII—HONDURAS AN UNDEVELOPED EMPIRE

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

AMAPALA. May 1.—Hardly anywhere else in the world can there be found a country so rich in natural wealth in proportion to its size as Honduras. Yet revolutions have followed one another almost with the succeeding seasons, and the people are as poor as their country is rich. With an area equal to that of the state of Ohio, its population is but little more than double that of Connecticut. With hundreds of thousands of acres of the richest land on earth, with mineral deposits that make the country a veritable treasure-house of possibilities; with forests that abound in almost every precious wood known to craftsmen, to say nothing of the millions upon millions of board feet of the best building timber; with all these things and many others to make it a land flowing with the milk and honey of plenty, Honduras is so poor that its national credit is a byword in the financial centers of the earth.

And all because of the fact that for years and years government has been but another word for graft in Honduras. It makes little difference who is in power and who is out; these who are in use the government for private gain until those who are out are strong enough to oust them, and then the process begins anew. The consequence is that Honduras has been going backwards. Years ago President Sierra built a road from his mountain capital, Tegucigalpa, to the sea. In those days it was a good road. But as time went on, the road came into existence it was yet a popular highway, and few who have seen pictures of Honduras have failed to see the big auto truck pictured on a fine stretch of road leading from Tegucigalpa to the sea. But the big truck makes its way no more. Cultivators have been washed away, sections of the road have slipped from the mountain side and a cart can carry only half as much as it carried 10 years ago. And if one wishes to visit the nation's capital he must travel in the same primitive fashion of the days when the journey in the days of the hurricane deck of a mule. This is passing the only real public improvement the country ever had—except that 37 miles of railroad for which Honduras today owes something like $125,000,000!

Close to Trade Centers.

And yet the possibilities! Honduras, with a natural wealth that is incalculable, is 700 miles nearer to Chicago than is San Francisco; Honduras, where money might almost be made to grow on trees, is nearer to New Orleans than is Cincinnati; it is nearer to Washington than Denver.

But the Honduras has been poor amid plenty so long that they have become almost reconciled to their fate. They expect revolutions, and indeed would feel that something was missing if they did not have them. For awhile these revolutions were mere the result of Central American politics that of internal trouble. President Zelaya of Nicaragua wanted to be the dictator of Central America. So did President Cabrera of Guatemala. In 1907 Manuel Bonilla was president of Honduras, the same who now holds that office. He refused to be a tool of either of the rival leaders in Central America, although he did lengthen his term of office from four to six years. Zelaya thought that was unconstitutional, so he decided to depose Bonilla and put in a man of his own choosing. Bonilla called Zelaya to his aid, but was defeated. Zelaya and Cabrera had insisted on the claims of Arce.

Ready Now to Overthrow Him.

All this led to the famous Central American Peace Conference called at the instance of Secretary Root. All the countries in this conference mutually pledged themselves to keep out of each other's political affairs. A pledge which neither Cabrera nor Zelaya meant to keep, but which Uncle Sam made them stand by. The next revolution came a few years later, when Bonilla led a revolution against Zelaya and succeeded. He had helped

Raised but Little Cereals.

In what-bad case Honduras really stands, may be seen from the fact that, although it is a country of almost infinite possibilities agriculturally, it rarely raises more corn, beans, rice, etc., than will suffice to tide it over until the succeeding crop. It is sometimes extremely difficult to buy bananas, oranges, pineapples, even corn, in the capital city, although Honduras has tens of thousands of acres of grazing land, and yet its cattle business is in a deplorable state. There has been no new infusion of blood in their cattle since the days of Spanish domination, and they usually reverse the ordinary procedure in selecting their breeding stock. Elsewhere the best cattle are reserved for breeding purposes. Here the best cattle go to the butcher's block, and the result has been a great deterioration in the character of the cattle on the ranges. The cattle mature slowly, the bullocks are not ready for the butcher until they are about 5 years old. Butchering consists in the hacking up of the carcasses into chunks of haggled meat and bone. The division into shapes and joints known in American butcher shops is unheard of here, and properly cut roasts and steaks are never seen.

What little prosperity there may be in the republic is a result of the presence of foreigners. It is charged, and perhaps fairly so, that the foreigners who ask for concessions in Honduras are a rapacious lot, and that most of them, especially the Americans, obtain their concessions for purposes of speculation, and are humbugging both the people of Honduras and the American investors. This has resulted in a disinclination on the part of the government to grant concessions, and an inclination to hedge about those that are granted with innumerable reservations. No one ought to have any sympathy with that class of promoters who are merely speculators, but there is something to be said in defense of the legitimate investor. He goes into these countries knowing that the governments are unstable, and not knowing when the profits may stop, if indeed the investment itself be not lost. Under these conditions it is inevitable that he should demand large profits.

Cannot Realize on Natural Wealth.

Yet, so long as the stability of the government is so doubtful, Honduras cannot expect capital from the outside to come in except under such conditions as it cannot realize on its holdings of natural wealth without the aid of outside capital, and that capital can be secured only in small amounts and upon high charges so long as present conditions prevail. And those conditions the responsible authorities of Honduras show no signs of wishing to change.

Only two of all the presidents who have served Honduras have vacated office without resorting to force to hold their places. One of these was Zelaya, the other was Policarpo Bonilla, the present thorn in the flesh of President Zelaya and his supporters.

The Holmes Chemical and Drug company, 705 South Tejon street, was closed yesterday by S. L. Two other drug stores, which were found negligent in the matter, were ordered to secure regular pharmacists at once or have their licenses closed.

Dr. Bresler made a trip of inspection through the various drug stores of the city and found that all supplies of drugs in Colorado Springs are pure and up to the standard required by the state board. In order to assist the pharmacy board in its work, the city is an ordinance which forbids the issuance of a permit for a pharmacy to do business unless it employs a registered pharmacist regularly.

When cleaning the refrigerator, all shelves should be removed, and if solids are spilled they should be wiped at once. Remove shelves and scrub in hot suds, made by dissolving a teaspoon of cold water washing powder in warm water. Dry with a cloth in the sunshine if possible. Scrub part of both the ice and the food shelves thoroughly with the hot water. Rinse in clear water, wipe dry, leave open to air. Soiled waste with boiling suds made from Gold Washing powder, scrub the drip pan and then replace the parts.

AID IN CHARTER PHIL

Colorado Springs will join the with Pueblo and Grand Junction in an effort to initiate a law at the general election next fall to protect the charters of the city in the matter of elections, according to a dispatch of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The nonpartisan feature as to elections in the proposed Denver charter has been ruled illegal by the supreme court, and the city attorneys of Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Grand Junction agree that this decision affects their respective cities as well as Denver. They therefore propose to initiate a law amending the constitution to permit charters to be held in force under their charters instead of under the state law.

The Colorado Springs and of the matter has been placed in the hands of the legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of Dunbar F. Carpenter, R. L. Holland, R. S. Ellison, C. C. Hamlin and J. A. Ritter, who will be assisted by Henry C. Hall, H. G. Lunt and W. H. Chinn.

COLORADO COLLEGE SCHOOL OF SURVEYING OPENS JUNE 3

The Colorado college summer school of surveying will open at Manitou park this year, June 3. The course will last four weeks, and camp will be broken Saturday, June 9.

DANCE AT ACACIA IN HONOR MISS ATKINSON

Manager S. J. Bush of the Acacia hotel gave a dance in the new ballroom at the hotel last night, in honor of Miss Mabel Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Atkinson, of this city, who have just recently returned from California. About 30 couples were present, and the music was furnished by the St. Clair orchestra. Refreshments were served.

Miss Martin to Wed Asa T. Jones Shortly

Mrs. F. L. Martin, 720 North Nevada avenue, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Martin, to Asa T. Jones. Miss Martin is a sister of Mrs. Willard N. Burgess. Their father, the late F. L. Martin, was a prominent pioneer citizen of Colorado Springs. Miss Martin has been assistant librarian at Colorado college for some time. Mr. Jones is one of the leading business men of this city.

CONTRACTS FOR POWER

The management of the Modern Woodmen sanatorium has decided to abandon its plan of constructing a power plant, and has signed a contract with the Colorado Springs Light, Heat & Power company for electricity. This contract is the second largest individual contract ever made by the electric company.

The five miles of high tension line necessary to carry the current from the plant north of the city to the sanatorium will be constructed at a cost of $500,000. A number of transformers will be installed at the grounds to step down the voltage. The contract is on a voltage basis, and the cost will vary according to the amount of current used.

OFFERS PRIZES AT COLLEGE

A friend of Colorado college, whose name is not made public, has offered prizes of $50, $30 and $20 for the three best theses written by members of this year's graduating class of the school of engineering. The theses must be written about some piece of engineering in this state or some original engineering work, and some original contribution to the science of engineering. The prizes will be awarded during the month of June.

Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd Winstet have gone to their future home in Denver after spending their honeymoon at the Cliff house in Manitou.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE

The Y. W. C. A. annual conference will be held at the Hotel Ramona, in Canon City, June 21 to July 1, with Mrs. Edith M. Dabb of the national board presiding. The general assembly will consist of 100 delegates from all over the state.

Among the speakers will be the Rev. H. M. Hart and the Rev. Robert F. Coyle, both of Denver, and the Rev. Edgar L. Gresham of Salt Lake City. Among those who have accepted invitations to lead the sessions are the Rev. H. J. B. of the University of the South, and the Rev. H. J. B. of the University of the South.

Emporia college, Emporia, Kan. Under the leadership of mission study club will be the Rev. H. J. B. of the University of the South, and the Rev. H. J. B. of the University of the South.

No sessions will be held during the afternoon, this time being left open for recreation. A committee is arranging for delegates to visit Pike's Peak and Cripple Creek immediately after the conference is over, and trips to the Garden of the Gods, Cliff Dwellers and Cave of the Winds are being planned for the afternoon.

ANNEXATION QUESTION TEMPORARILY DROPPED

The proposition to annex Colorado City to Colorado Springs, which was brought before the Chamber of Commerce by several citizens of Colorado City a few weeks ago, has been dropped—at least, for the time being. It has been found by a number of prominent attorneys who have looked over the law concerning the annexation of one city to another, that a majority vote of all qualified electors of both communities is necessary to effect the union. Thus far, there has been very little opposition to the proposed annexation, and the measure would undoubtedly carry a majority of the votes cast, but it is regarded as almost impossible to secure a majority of all the qualified electors, since that large a vote is seldom gotten out in any election.

The proposition of annexing Colorado City to Colorado Springs is an old story, and has been agitated at various times for many years. However, this latest agitation was discussed more generally and venturously toward accomplishing the union than any previous one. It was started in Colorado City, several months ago, and a few weeks ago a committee from the city met with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and City Attorney McKee to discuss the proposition. As a result of this meeting the Chamber asked the council to appoint a commission of three to meet with a commission of the same number to be appointed by the Colorado City council, to investigate the matter. Before the two councils appointed these commissions, however, the attorneys who had been looking up the law regarding annexation, cited that it would be folly to make the attempt now.

Colorado City was particularly anxious to unite with Colorado Springs so that its shippers might get the benefit of this city being a common freight rate point. Colorado Springs is a common point, while Colorado City is not, and its merchants therefore must pay an additional charge of from 15 to 25 cents on shipments. Now that annexation is out of the question for the time being, a number of citizens of Colorado City are agitating the charter form of government, but it is not improbable that attorneys of both communities will continue working on the annexation proposition until they have found a way to effect the union.

DENVER DISTRICT M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, CONFERS

The business session of the Denver district of the Methodist church, South, began at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the church in this city. The Rev. A. Smith, presiding elder of Denver, spoke on the needs of the church. Statements were received from the various committees and others appointed to collect data in regard to the business of the church here. Several charges were reported by the pastors, and a number of addresses were given on "The Supreme Needs of the Church."

The afternoon was given over to the study of the Bible, and the Rev. J. P. Lancaster of Trinidad, of the History and Possibilities of the Sunday School. At the evening session the Rev. James P. Hutchinson of this city, who is field secretary of the Colorado Lord's Day alliance, gave the address. The sessions today will begin at 9 o'clock this morning and 8:30 o'clock this afternoon. The morning will be devoted to business, and the afternoon will concern the general subject, "The Women's Work." The Rev. U. S. Tabor of Pueblo, formerly of this city, will speak this evening.

RELIGION CONVENTION TO MEET HERE SUNDAY

The Colorado Springs convention of the Men and Religion Forward movement will open Sunday morning with addresses at the various churches of the city. Representatives of the churches of Cripple Creek, Victor, Fountain, Eastonville and Monument will be here to attend the institutes, which will be a prominent part of the work of the two days' session. The various departments, such as boys' work, social service and community extension, will be taken up by the experts, who will arrive from Denver today and tomorrow.

WILL SELL ARTICLES MADE BY ADULT BLIND

A sale of articles made by the adult blind from various parts of the state will be conducted at the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the DeGraff building, today, from 11:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., by Mrs. Jennie Caward Jackson, state teacher of the adult blind. The articles offered will be throat lace yokes, belts, Irish crochet collars, neckties, laundry bags, infants' jackets, booties, and caps, dollies, table mats, centerpieces, shawls, bedroom slippers, etc. The proceeds of the sale will go to the individual who made the article.

More than two-thirds of those who are blind become so after they are 21 years of age, and consequently are not allowed to enter the state school for the blind. Two years ago the state legislature created the position of instructor of the adult blind and Mrs. Jackson was given the position. It is her duty to register all the adult blind in the state, note their ability to help themselves and their need of help, and keep a register in the office of the state superintendent of schools at Denver. Anyone knowing of an adult blind person not registered will confer a favor on Mrs. Jackson by notifying her either at her home, 202 Flatt street, Denver, or at the office of the state superintendent of schools.

SOCIALIST MEETING

The Socialist meeting in Carpenters hall Sunday evening will consist of short talks on various phases of the Socialist movement. Among the subjects for discussion will be Socialism From an International Standpoint, and "How the Socialist Party Works." Several criticisms of the program will be given by persons outside the party.

PASSES BOGUS CHECKS

Bearing a card as an introduction from a woman who formerly lived in Colorado Springs, Selden F. Williams, address unknown, came to the city a few days ago, and calling upon a prominent real estate firm, said he wanted to rent a house in the north end for a period of six months. Williams took the first house to which he was shown, located in the 800 block on North Cascade avenue. He handed the firm a draft on a Jacksonville, Fla., bank for $300 to cover the rent.

Then the unknown paid a visit to two grocery stores. At one he ordered a bill of groceries amounting to $24, and told the clerk to send them to his home on North Cascade avenue. He tendered a check for $100 in payment and received $76 change. At another store he ordered $34 worth of groceries, handed over a check for $100 in payment and received $66 change. Since then but little has been seen here of Mr. Williams.

When the real estate firm deposited the $300 draft, the bank here was asked to wire Jacksonville, where the paper was drawn, concerning Williams' financial standing. The answer came back that he was not known there, and that the draft was evidently fraudulent.

"We did not lose anything in the transaction," said a member of the real estate firm in question yesterday, "except a nominal sum in having the house put in order for occupancy. We have no idea where Mr. Williams is at present. We understand, though, that he worked the same scheme on one or more grocery stores in Denver a day or two ago."

Up to the present no charge has been here against Williams and the matter has not been taken up with the police. Chief Burns said last night that he is investigating.

Societies and Clubs

Section One of the First Christian church will meet with Mrs. Hiles, 824 North Hancock street, this afternoon. Those attending are requested to bring thimbles and light colored cotton goods to sew.

There will be a special communication of El Paso lodge, No. 13, A. F. & A. M. this evening at 8 o'clock. There will be work in the entered apprentice degree.

The Woman's association of the Universalist church meets this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. F. E. McDaniels, 631 East William street.

DR. ALBERT HART LECTURES ON CHINA

Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart gave a lecture on "China" at Colorado college last night. He spoke of the many people who make up the population and of the great natural resources of the country. "The recent revolution," said Dr. Hart, "will play an important part in the growth of the country in the next few years. China is moving farther toward a real civilization now in a far more rapid manner than it formerly did in a half century."

VISIT SPRINGS ON WAY TO SEATTLE CONVENTION

Colorado Springs will be visited next month by hundreds of delegates, either on their way to or returning from the annual convention of the National Electric Light association, in Seattle, June 10-14, inclusive, according to word received here by officials of the electric company.

This convention is one of the largest held in the United States, and many of the finest equipped special trains in the country will carry the delegates to and from the meeting. Most of these special trains will stop in this city. Among them are:

May 25, which will be one of the finest trains going to the convention.

Pink Special, leaving Boston May 26, and which will be equipped in about the same way as the New York train. The two trains will follow the same route.

Green Special, leaving Chicago June 4.

Orange Special, leaving Chicago June 6.

Purple Special, leaving St. Louis June 5.

All of these trains will stop in Colorado Springs. The appointments and decorations on the various trains will be in the colors by which the specials are designated.

Personal Mention

J. W. Krahner, who is returning to the east from Honolulu, is registered at the Acadia.

Mrs. James Ruth of Sacramento, Cal., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hemmway at the Acadia hotel.

Miss Rebecca Groves leaves today for Grand Junction, where she will be the guest of her brother, Luigi Groves, on his fruit ranch, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gray Curtis and daughter, Eleanor, of Covina, Cal., left for the east yesterday, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Curtis, 1715 North Cascade avenue.

James Stewart, the Short Line engineer who was hurt in an accident on the road some time ago, is steadily improving, and is able to walk about. It will be some time before he can return to work.

Deaths and Burials

The funeral of Benjamin Rosenberg, who died Wednesday morning from pneumonia, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, 441 East Bluffs street. The casket will be in charge of Manitou lodge, No. 68, A. F. & A. M. All Masons and friends are invited to attend. Interment will be in the Jewish plot at Evergreen cemetery.

Victor P. Hauber, aged 30 years, owner of a popcorn stand at the corner of Huerta and Tejon streets, died at a local hospital yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Doll McSittelle, of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the undertaking rooms of Fairley & Law, with interment in Evergreen cemetery.

News of Local Courts

The case of De Wayne Ecclefield, a minor against M. K. Myers, which has been on trial in the district court the last two days, will be continued this morning. It is probable that the case will go to the jury by noon. Myers is sued for $20,000 damages, the complaint alleging that the Ecclefield boy shot himself twice with cartridges purchased from Myers.

City officials will go to Canon City tomorrow morning to defend a suit brought against Colorado Springs by the Arkansas Valley Water & Irrigation company. Both parties to the suit claim certain water rights on Beaver creek.

Emel M. Frederick filed suit for divorce from George M. Frederick in the county court yesterday, alleging extreme cruelty. The couple were married in Billingsville Mo., March 21, 1911. The complaint recites that the defendant has been absent from the plaintiff for a period of four months and weeks after the marriage. Plaintiff asks for the custody of a 4-month-old baby.

What the Press Agents Say

JAMES HAWLEY WILL NOT MAKE CURTAIN TALK

Opening the summer stock season at the Opera house last Monday evening, quite a surprise was "handed to" the members of the company when Mr. Hawley refused to make a curtain talk. He was requested by the management, as well as many of his co-workers, who thought that Mr. Hawley ought to tell them "how glad he was that they came out on such a bad night," but Jimmy wouldn't, and the evidence is that even the heartstrings of a comedian will be touched. And to think it was the first time he opened an engagement with his own company.

Mr. Hawley and company are offering for their first production the great comedy success, "Mary Jane's Pa." Max Fisman's and Henry E. Dixey's late success. A more complete production has never before been offered to the theatergoing public of this city at popular prices. Miss Zelma Edwards is seen in the cast as Portia Perkins. "Mary Jane's Pa." will run until Saturday evening, when, on Monday night, "Going Some," the Belasco theatrical comedy success, will be presented.

Advance sale of seats are now selling at the Opera House drug store. Phone Main 780 or Main 190. Matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

WHEAT NEAR LONGMONT DESTROYED BY CUTWORMS

LONGMONT, Colo., May 16.—Considerable loss has been occasioned the farmer this year in the section lying northeast of Longmont, where hundreds of acres of fall wheat have been destroyed by the cutworms, and the land is being reseeded to beets, potatoes and peas. Among some of those with large acreage destroyed are C. C. Kistler, and E. L. Montgomery, 300 acres, James Murphy, A. D. Helt and Pat Hurst with about 100 acres each. No financial loss will be experienced save the cost of the seed and the work of reseeded. In this section the farmers have paid little attention to the raising of crops other than wheat, and the system will cause them to change their outlook of farming. The cutworm is a new trouble and at present there is no known means of combating the pest. But agricultural experts hope to find some means to rid the country of the insect.

CHICAGO CAPITALISTS GET A GRADED RIGHT-OF-WAY

ROSWELL, N. M., May 16. M. C. Vaughn of Portales today bought the completed graded right-of-way for the Colorado, Texaco & Aransas Pass railroad, which was chartered to extend from the Colorado coal fields to the Gulf terminal. Chicago capitalists are back of the move, and the first work will be to build from Texaco to Virginia City, opening up a rich agricultural section. Arrangements for floating the necessary bonds for the entire completion are consummated. Work will begin on the uncompleted ends shortly after the November election.

All the unions affiliated with the Mothers Union of North America will vote on a proposition to hold a convention of the international body this year none having been held in five years. It carries the convention will be held in Milwaukee, Wis., next September.

Bidwell Gets Washburn Field; Team Here Soon

As Gazette Predicted, Springs Will Have Club in New League

Ira Bidwell, president of the Rocky Mountain Baseball league, came down from Denver yesterday and, as predicted in yesterday's Gazette, took action which will give Colorado Springs baseball a high class this summer. Bidwell had been in town but a short time until he closed a contract whereby Washburn field has been leased to him for the summer months where the home games of the Colorado Springs Millionaires will be played this season. Washburn field, easily the easiest and fastest ballfield in this section, will be used for the games during the week. Sunday games, however, will be played at Roswell park, which will be put in shape at once, in view of the lava here against Sunday baseball.

The hustling young baseball promoter received many compliments yesterday when the story was noted about the Millionaires would be on the job here this summer as originally stated. He has had an unusually hard run of luck in getting the league baseball proposition lined up here and deserves lots of credit for the money he has spent and the time he has devoted to it.

His teams, which have been in training for the last three weeks and playing exhibition games when weather permitted, are working Coloradoward and will begin to arrive in the Centennial state early next week. Incidentally the Millionaires beat the Scott City, Kan., club yesterday, 12 to 6, in the last game of the series.

The Rocky Mountain league season, Bidwell announced last night, will open in La Junta, Friday, May 24, the Colorado Springs team playing there and the Canon City club playing at Pueblo. The first game in Colorado Springs will be staged at Washburn field, Monday, May 27, with La Junta, probably, as the opposition.

In looking over the records of the Millionaires on their training trip, it is interesting to note that the team won 18 and lost 4 games, scoring a total of 264 runs to 65 by their opponents.

For the opening game here it is probable that a committee of business men made up of the real baseball boosters in Colorado Springs will assist in selling tickets for the first showing of the Millionaires on their own lot.

TERRORS WOULD BE TICKLED TO PLAY ROCKY FORD TEAM

By IRVIN BRUCE.

The Terror team, the High school students and Terror supporters, are greeted about stories that the Terrors are afraid to meet the Rocky Ford team, the champions of the extreme northern part of the state. As a matter of fact, the Terrors are not afraid to meet any high school team in the state, and would rather play the valiantly than any other team, now that these false reports have been circulated.

The Terrors play the Preps here, May 26, for the interscholastic championship of the league, which governs high school ball in this state. This league was formed about the first of the year, and the Rocky Ford team could have been a member had they so desired. When the league was formed was the right time for Rocky Ford to put in a kick—not when the championship of the league and the state is at stake.

The constitution of the league states that the season must close May 25, and this provision will prevent the Terrors from meeting the team from the meadow country. Manager Nye of the Terrors has been trying for the last two weeks to arrange a game with the Rocky Ford team, but has been unable to make any satisfactory agreement. The finances of the Terrors are not in the best of shape, and the management feels that it is justified in not bringing the team from the south to meet the Terrors, unless a suitable agreement can be made whereby the Terrors can break even on the deal.

When the Rocky Ford team defeats Pueblo Centennial, it will have a better chance to play for the state title.

SCOTT CITY LOSES FINAL GAME TO SPRINGS 12-6

Special to The Gazette.

SCOTT CITY, Kan., May 16.—The Colorado Springs Millionaires won the last game of the series with the home team here today by a score of 12 to 6. The Rocky Mountain team hit the ball hard and often and played a fast game throughout. Batteries: Colorado Springs, Haven and Swift; Scott City, Seal and McNeally.

CAPT. HARDY WILL GIVE EXHIBITION OF SHOOTING

Capt. A. H. Hardy, widely known as a revolver and rifle expert, will give an exhibition revolver shoot here this afternoon. He will also give an exhibition at a shotgun shoot to be held at the Broadmoor grounds tomorrow afternoon. Tom Daily, the Victor trap shooter, who has just joined professional ranks, has arranged for a tour of the state with Captain Hardy. From here they will go to Pueblo.

CHICAGOANS LOOK TO CALLAHAN'S WHITE SOX TO LAND ANOTHER PENNANT FOR COMISKEY

CHICAGO, May 16.—Will the Chicago White Sox win another American league pennant for Charles (Old Roman) Comiskey or are they due for a tumble soon?

American league baseball fans are asking each these questions ever since John Callahan's sensational comeback season secured a flying start in the 1912 championship race.

It seems perfectly natural for the "Old Roman" to pilot, direct or own pennant-winning ball clubs. He has been on the job since back in 1885, when he piloted the St. Louis Browns to victory in the American association.

Comiskey's ability as a ball man has never been questioned; then he always has had his share of luck; a happy combination of the two enabled him to pilot four pennant winners, win one world's championship and run a dead heat for another with the old St. Louis Browns; win two championships and one world's series with the Chicago White Sox.

Clark Griffith piloted the White Sox to victory in 1901. Fielder Jones managed the world's championship White Sox of 1905. The Sox defeated the Cubs that year for the world's title.

Callahan, the leader of the 1912 White Sox, rounded up the team that brought fame and fortune to Fielder Jones.

"Cal" was managing the Sox in 1904. After hitting the high spots one night in New York he resigned and suggested the appointment of Jones as manager. Comiskey was unwilling to lose Callahan, but Jimmy said that he must first learn to manage himself before he would attempt to run another big league team.

The team that Callahan rounded up for Jones made a big flash in 1905 and hit the bull's-eye in 1906. Callahan discovered Ed Walsh, signed Frank Smith, Nick Altrock and Harry White. Donahue, Labell, Davis, Tannehill and Robe, the famous Sox infield, was whipped into shape by Callahan. Fielder Jones so did Eddie Hann. Pat Dougherty was the only member of the champion Sox that Jones brought to Chicago from New York.

If Callahan could rub up a winner for Fielder Jones, why can't he put a ball man here ever putting this query to each other ever since the 1912 season opened and the Sox beat the gate for a flying start.

Callahan's sensational comeback stunt last year was the feature of the American league last year. This season he is straining every nerve to turn another big trick. "Cal" learned to manage himself in semiprofessional ball; now he wants to top off his baseball career as manager of a pennant winner and world's championship team.

Are the Sox playing beyond their speed? The club possesses real "class" and will get the route and stand the stuff? Who are the big men of the Sox team?

It requires a thorough analysis of the Chicago American league club to answer these questions.

The "big men" of the club are Callahan, Walsh, Harry Lord. Walsh is the best pitcher in the American league with the exception of Walter Johnson. Lord is the star third-sacker of the A. L. and one of the greatest hitting infielders in the game. Callahan is a great stickler, baserunner and outfielder and one of the brainiest ball players in the game.

Callahan directs the work of the Sox outfield. Lord bosses the infield and with Sullivan behind the bat the team is amply fortified with baseball brains. Sullivan dislocated a shoulder during the series with the Browns at Sportsman's park and may not get back in the game for a month. The veteran catcher and George Davis were Fielder Jones' chief lieutenants in 1906.

One of the essentials of a winning ball club is a first-class pitching staff. Walsh had the greatest pitching staff in the American league last year; many good judges think Callahan has a better pitching staff than Naack this year.

Walsh is the heavy man of the Sox staff, with Jim Scott, Lange, "Butcher" Peters, "Doc" White, Mogridge, "Rube" Benz and Delhi to help the spitball king out. Walsh is the iron man of the American league. He takes his turn on the mound and is always ready to pull out his team-mates out of a bad hole. Walsh would pitch his right arm off for Comiskey and Callahan. Ed explains it this way:

"It's little to crack and go down for good any time. No use preserving my arm in a class case. I like to work and my wing has never given me any trouble. When my baseball candle goes out it will hardly be due to a dead arm. I'm not afraid of that. I'd throw my arm off to win a pennant for Comiskey and Callahan. Comiskey is like a father to me. I love him and my work for the 'Old Roman' is inspired by a higher motive than mere salary. Now you have the real reason why Ed Walsh is willing to work every day in the year to win ball games for Comiskey's club."

Walsh is the greatest relief pitcher in the game. He can go in cold and pitch better ball than almost any other curve artist in either big league.

Walsh is Callahan's ace in the hole. When Scott weakens or Lange blows up, Scott or Walsh is always ready to step on the firing line and deliver.

TERRORS PLAY CUTLER TODAY

With the interscholastic baseball championship still a matter to be decided, the Colorado Springs High school and Outler academy will meet in their final game of the season, at Washburn field, this afternoon and 8 o'clock.

Both teams look for a tight game all the way. Although the Terrors are the favorites, Johnson, the Terrors' clever back stop, remained over in the Springs when the track team went to Boulder, yesterday, for Saturday's meet, for the High school is taking no chances with today's engagement. Johns will join the other Terrors in Boulder, tomorrow, in time to take part in the track meet.

Outler academy's team is made up of nearly all new players this season, and the result of the game depends largely on whether the Terrors will be able to hit Dickinson, the academy flinger.

Evans, the tall High school boxman, will be on the hill for the Terrors, and it is doubtful if the Outler clubbers will be able to do much against him. The long standing rivalry between the two schools will be evident today, and the game will no doubt be hard fought all the way.

Richards' Resignation Clever Political Move

Other Athletic Coaches at Badger Institution May Drop Out

MADISON, Wis., May 16.—The time-worn controversy as to whether or not intercollegiate athletics shall survive at the University of Wisconsin, has been reopened afresh. The unlooked-for resignation of Coach John R. Richards, on Wednesday, following the decision of the university faculty not to excuse freshman athletes from military drill, has made a vital and living issue out of a question which every Badger student and alumnus hoped had been answered in a satisfactory manner when the present athletic department was put in charge of affairs.

There will be no half-way decision or compromise on the subject of intercollegiate athletics this time. The matter will be carried direct to the board of regents in June, and that body will be asked to state definitely what Wisconsin's policy is toward competitive athletics. If the regents sustain the faculty in the stand it has taken, Wisconsin will continue along its present course, and inside of five years, if the faculty has its way, Wisconsin intercollegiate teams will be but a fond memory.

However, if the regents reverse the faculty a wholly different result is looked for. Action adverse to the faculty on the part of the regents will mean that the control of athletics at Wisconsin will be taken from the faculty and lodged in a committee composed of regents and alumni, after the system in vogue at the University of Michigan. Such action on the part of the board of regents will put Wisconsin outside the pale of the big eight conference, which requires the strict control of athletics be in the hands of the faculty.

If Wisconsin, which always has been a firm supporter of the western conference, turns its back on the Big Eight the way will be opened for the formation of a new athletic alliance in the west. The Badgers, then, will be in practically the same position as Michigan, Minnesota is none too friendly disposed toward the present conference, and it is entirely probable that Illinois could be induced to break its present affiliations with the assurance that "safe and sane" athletic regulations will be the main feature of the new lineup.

But aside from the bearing which the action of the board of regents may have on the western intercollegiate athletic world, the vote in June will be watched with especial interest by Badger graduates or undergraduates. On that vote the regime of Athletic Director Ehler will either stand or fall. Director Ehler has the firm support of President Van Hise and a majority of the university faculty, who are heartily in sympathy with the director's plans for intramural athletics as opposed to intercollegiate activities. However, it is known that there is an active minority in the faculty who feel that the Badger director has not made the most of his opportunities and remarks dropped in private conversation by a member of the board of regents would seem to indicate that Mr. Ehler's position is none too strong with that body.

Right here is where Coach Richards' resignation connects up with the situation. Although he never has said that he would accept the position, it is an open secret in university circles that Coach Richards would like to be in absolute control of the athletic department provided the policy of the university was favorable to intercollegiate competition. Happenings in the past few months indicate that certain of Coach Richards' friends are active in his behalf. In debarring several athletes from intercollegiate competition during the winter and spring, the athletic council has done much to make unpopular with the students the regime of Director Ehler.

In this connection also it has been a matter of comment among students and faculty members that in the recent faculty meeting, which approved the western conference resolutions, Prof. H. Bunting led the attack upon the recommendations of the athletic council to the effect that Director Ehler be continued as Wisconsin's representative at the Big Eight meetings. Dr. Bunting is a firm personal friend of Coach Richards, having been a classmate and fraternity brother of his at Wisconsin 15 years ago.

Followers of Richards' resignation in Madison see in Richards' resignation one of the cleverest political moves that has been pulled off here in some time. They even go so far as to say that the resignation was timed so as to come before the meeting of the general alumni association at its June meetings, which is expected to make certain recommendations to the regents anent the athletic situation.

Richards formerly coached the High school and Colorado college teams here. At Wisconsin, last fall, he turned out one of the best football teams in the history of the university.

CATCHERS WHO PAIRED WITH FAMOUS BOXMEN

The catchers most closely associated with old Cy Young's long reign are Chief Zimmer and Lou Riger. Zimmer caught Young for half a dozen years in Cleveland in the 90s, and Criger caught him in Cleveland, Boston and St. Louis. Jack O'Connor was another who caught Young a good deal, but among the other backstops who have been Young's teammates are Jack Doyle, who was a catcher on the Cleveland club in 1892; Gunson, who was a Cleveland catcher in 1893; Wilbert Robinson, who caught for the St. Louis club in 1900, when Young was there; Schreckengost, who was with the Boston Americans in 1904; and Clarke, Bemis, Easterly and Land, Cleveland catchers in late years.

Christy Mathewson generally pairs off with one catcher. Chief Myers is now his receiving mate, a position which, in turn, has been filled by Jack Warner, Frank Bowerman and Roger Bresnahan. Those are not all the catchers Mathewson has had on the New York team, however. They are the principal ones. Needham, Schell, Marshall and Wilson have also handled his shoots.

The veteran Jack Powell's catchers include O'Connor, Criger, McGuire, Kleinsch, Kahor, Suggen, Clark and Stephens. Old Deacon Phillippe had Zimmer, Kittredge and Doc Fowers with him in Louisville in 1899; had Zimmer, O'Connor and Schriver with him in Pittsburgh in 1900, and since then in Pittsburgh has served his stunts to Yeager, Smith, Phelps, Carisch, Pelz and Gibson.

Cy Young was left at home when the Boston Braves hit the western "Uncle Cyrus" in order to put him in a Santa Claus act next Christmas.
